Rabbinic Reflection

We have just entered the month of Adar, a month that is given great prominence in the Talmud. The Talmud states that: mi she'nikhnas Adar marbin b'simchah (Ta'anit: 29a). That means: When one enters into the month of Adar, one should increase in happiness. After the past few month's of listening to the political rhetoric, driving through flooding after rainstorms, and hearing about bomb threats at Jewish pre-schools, who couldn't use a little happiness?! With the 24-hour news cycle, TMZ and social media, we spend quite a bit of time dwelling on the bad, the argument, and the gossip. You don't believe me?! Just turn on your TV, your computer or your smart phone. The holiday of Purim—the reason that Adar is a joyful month—teaches us to look for the good in life. Purim is not a children's holiday, despite what you may have heard elsewhere. Purim is a holiday filled with worldly themes and important adult lessons. When we read the Megillah and celebrate its lessons, we become empowered by its words. On Saturday, March 11, we will boo Haman and the pure evil that he epitomizes. We will cheer Mordechai and Esther for their fearless rescue of the Jewish people. We will celebrate the joy of the triumph of good over evil—a lesson that is perhaps more relevant now than it has been in many decades. Certainly, there is misogyny, xenophobia and fear mongering in the Book of Esther, but we see that we can overcome them as we build a better world. Real world lessons for our times. In retelling the story of Queen Esther and company, we relive the miracle of Purim—that we survived despite the threat of annihilation. In recounting the defeat of Haman, we are reminded of the danger of leaving evil unchallenged. The Book of Esther is the only Book in the Tanach (Hebrew Bible) that does not mention God. God's face is hidden in the story (hence why we wear costumes), and we are compelled to focus on where else God may be hidden in our lives. Finally, the Talmudic dictate (increase happiness) reminds us to celebrate the simchas more than we dwell on the sadness. And of course, our inner child gets to play and be silly with our actual children! Happy Purim! Please join us (in costume) on March 11, for dinner at 6pm and Megillah reading at 7pm. Remember, dinner is free if you come in costume! And don't forget our fabulous Purim Carnival the next morning, March 12, with games, food, entertainment and more, you are bound to have a joyful Purim!

Kol tuv,

Rabbi Jay Sherwood

LADINO CONCERT PROGRAM/ HEALING SERVICE

Thank you to everyone who came to last month's Cantors Concert – and of course, to all our wonderful Sponsors - We appreciate your enthusiastic and generous support! Thank you to Rabbi Sherwood and Judy Filsinger for your presence and support. Thank you to our dedicated and talented choir members Michelle Anctil, Grace Harris, Sheri Maltzman, George Petite, Marg Shattuck, Mary Lynn Slough [refuah sh'leimah!], Barb Smith and Michelle Zipperstein. To our man of many talents who gives so much of himself and his time, Jerry Ripley - we are so grateful for you. Stuart Sweet – your brilliant and artistic creations always grace us with lasting memories. Also, behind - but oh so intricate to - the scenes, our gratitude to Mike Kress, David Swedlove, Stuart Sweet, Greg Weissman, Robert O'Rourke and Ben Hiller. And last but not least, Phyllis Sweet – without the enthusiasm and energy of you and the Concert Committee – Lori Fenster, Leslie Soltz, Margie Orland and Stuart Sweet, we would not have the successful PR, culinary sustenance for our performers or fabulous décor and refreshments that follow the concert. THANK YOU!!!

I am delighted to be presenting a beautiful Ladino song cycle with harp accompaniment in collaboration with Jerry Ripley on Tuesday, March 21, sponsored by the Spinet Organization of Redlands. The Spinet is the oldest chamber music society in the state, founded over one hundred years ago. Ladino is the language of the Sephardic tradition – a language also known as Judeo-Espanol, based on medieval Spanish. Just as Yiddish has elements of Hebrew, so too, does Ladino. Instead of Mazel tov, just say Mazal Bueno!

We are planning another Healing Service for the final Shabbat in March [Saturday, April 1]. Our first Healing Service took place in June of last year, just two weeks after the Orlando nightclub shooting. Our second Shabbat morning Healing Service will embrace shared communal grief, confusion and anxiety as well as personal mourning and loss. If you are interested in participating, having an Aliyah, reading Torah, sharing a personal story or creative reading, please contact me.

B'shalom,

Cantor Jennifer Bern-Vogel

Presidential Perspectives

We are fortunate to worship in a lovely synagogue in the peaceful community of Redlands. It behooves us, however, to be aware of changes in the social and political climate across our country. There have been threats made against Jewish Community Centers in 27 states (NPR, February 21, 2017). Sometime during the weekend of February 18-19th more than 100 headstones were vandalized at a Jewish cemetery in Missouri (WSJ, February 21, 2017). Three mosques have been set ablaze, two in Texas and one in Washington (USA Today, January 29, 2017). These events and others have led your temple leadership to take a closer look at our temple security. To this end, I listened in on a phone meeting sponsored by the Anti-Defamation League at which FBI agents weighed in on the proper response to events like these. Subsequently, we have contacted the Redlands Police Department and reviewed procedures in the event CEE receives a threat. We were encouraged to maintain close contact with local congregations of all faiths to stay current on happenings in our area. Our congregants Nancy Sidhu and Steve Becker have both represented us in the Redlands Area Interfaith Council, building bridges with many local houses of worship. We are also researching a system which will make entry into our building more secure for employees and congregants alike. In addition we are considering the addition of parking lot cameras to our facility. We enjoy a remarkably placid existence in Redlands, but we would be remiss if we did not recognize our changing national environment and take steps to ensure our safety.

Please be aware of some upcoming activities in March. On Saturday March 4th, at 7:00 PM the annual CEE Variety Show will take place in our social hall. Come see members of our congregation display their diverse talent. Wednesday, March 8th, at 7:00 PM, the inaugural Rabbi Hillel Cohn Endowed lecture at Cal State University San Bernardino features Rabbi David Ellenson, Past President and Chancellor Emeritus of Hebrew Union College. Everyone likes chocolate, so plan to attend our Chocolate Seder on March 26th at 7:00 PM. Enjoy traditional Seder foods with a delightful chocolate twist as we prepare to greet Passover in April. Finally, our Community Seder will take place April 11th from 6:00-9:00 PM. I would like to thank the CEE Sisterhood for the enormous amount of planning and work that is required to execute this event. To all our Sisters we say, "Todah Rabah!" I look forward to seeing you there.

*L'Hitraot,
Craig Beasley*

Sisterhood Speaks

On behalf of the Sisterhood Board I wish to thank all of those who were involved in making our Sisterhood Shabbat service so special—especially Rabbi Sherwood, Jerry Ripley and of course Cantor Bern-Vogel who we are all sending our thoughts to. Congratulations to both Heidi Nimmo and Nancy Sidhu for being the most recent recipients of the Evelyn Sandler award in honor of their commitment to our Sisterhood and in spreading sisterhood throughout the greater community. They both truly exemplify the meaning of “sisterhood” and an individual’s ability to share light, kindness, social action and inclusion towards all. I would also like to extend gratitude to Paula Kaye and Carole Wizer who once again made our annual Mah Jongg Tournament a wonderful success and made possible one of our most important fundraisers while giving a day of enjoyment for so many!

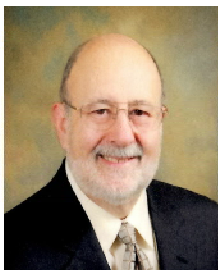

In March we have our Variety Show on the 4th as well as our conversation/book talk and coffee klatch with Anita Mishook on the 26th at 10:00 a.m.

Please note that our annual Community Seder will be on April 11 and begin at 6:00 p.m. Make sure to RSVP no later than March 27th so that a proper count and food arrangements can be secured with our caterer. There is a vegetarian option that is available if so desired. When making your reservation please advise at that time.

Our next Sisterhood meeting will be April 2 at 10:00 a.m.

In Sisterhood, Francesca Sweet

Treasurer's Report

Dear Fellow Congregants,

I am pleased to report that at the end of January 2017, while we are behind budget in our collection of dues and assessments, we have been good stewards relating to expenses. As a result we are only just over $2,300 behind in our net income projection.

As I often request, please make every effort to be sure your obligations are met over the next five months. It will be advantageous to start the new year with a surplus carryover.

We are about to embark on the annual budgeting process for our 2017-2018 Fiscal Year operations. I am sure that the Board of Directors would welcome any suggestions as to new programs and events to enhance our enjoyment of our wonderful facilities. Our BOD meetings are held every third Thursday of the month at 7:00 PM. All are welcome and encouraged to attend. If you have any specific topics you wish to address, please advise our Temple Administrator, Judy Filsinger and she will add it to our monthly agenda.

Those of you who were unable to join us for the Cantors Concert on February 12, 2017 missed an outstanding and most professional offering of both religious and secular music. The quality of the performances by the eight outstanding cantors as well as the accompanying musicians, led by our own Jerry Ripley as well as our own Choir, was equal to that which you would expect in the concert halls of Los Angeles and New York. Be sure to be on the lookout for the next opportunity to enjoy what we hope will be an annual event. It's just not to be missed!

Warmest regards,

Marvin Reiter

Mental Health Awareness

March 2017

As advocates for people with mental illness as well as for those who love them (that essentially means all of us), we each receive lots of information in our email boxes about mental illness.

The title of a recent mental health presentation in Riverside deserves attention in this column:

"I am Not Sick, I Don't Need help!"

Helping the Seriously Mentally Ill Seek Treatment

The program presented an opportunity to learn why many people with serious mental illness don't believe they need help or see obvious symptoms. It is not being stubborn or in denial, the most common reason is limited insight into his or her illness, and it can become a serious obstacle to helping someone.

Program participants learned about LEAP an acronym for Listen, Empathize, Agree, Partner. LEAP focuses on transforming relationships by gaining trust, and lowering anger and tension to develop genuine understanding and empathy. All are needed to make it possible to partner with a loved one and help them receive the help that they need.

If you would like information about LEAP email Heidi - miriamruth@me.com - and she will direct you to learn more!

Remember, wearing a lime green awareness ribbon is a simple way of saying I am willing to talk about mental illness in order to break the stigma that keeps many with mental illness from seeking help. The most significant fact to be shared is that at any time, one in four Americans is facing a mental illness challenge.

A Conversation With Anita Mishook

Author of the recently published novel, Helen

Sunday, March 26, 2017
10:00 a.m. in the Social Hall

Anita's debut work of historical fiction follows title character Helen as she travels from New York to California in 1936 to help her sister and brother-in-law in the family liquor store. Along with orange blossoms and sunshine, she finds bookies, gangsters, and a pro-Nazi plot to build a headquarters for Hitler on the Pacific's shore.

Helen has been enthusiastically received by critics.
It is described as a fascinating and most intriguing must read.

Anita, a long time associate member of the congregation, will have copies of her book available for sale. The book is also available at Amazon.

Plan now to enjoy this presentation over coffee and goodies.
No RSVP required.
