Common Losses, Common Hopes

Dear Friends,

Last summer, I invited then-candidate for County Supervisor, James Ramos, who then was still the Chairman of the San Manuel Band of Mission Indians, to be our featured guest speaker at our Interfaith Yom HaShoa/Holocaust Commemoration this Spring. In July, April seemed so very far away. We were sitting in our sanctuary down the hill in our interim synagogue, and we were imagining the first Yom HaShoa in our new synagogue. And, we were discussing the common pains and suffering that the Jewish and the American Indian communities had endured.

James agreed. It was a powerful moment. Now, it is ours.

Shortly, we will have an historic afternoon in our synagogue, when Mr. Ramos, now our County Supervisor, will ascend the bima and speak as the representative of both the County and of our neighbors in the San Manuel Band of Mission Indians, on Holocaust Commemoration Day. It is time to build relationships, and to understand each other, and to recognize the hurts and pains which make us common in losses, common in hopes, and common in humanity. Be here, Sunday, April 7, 2:00 p.m.

Rabbi Douglas Kohn

Spring is here!

How do I love thee? Let me count the ways...
[Elizabeth Barrett Browning, Sonnet 43]

Or to put it in Jewish terms, it's time to count the days! According to the Torah (Lev. 23:15), we are obligated to count the days from Passover to Shavu'ot. This period is known as the Counting of the Omer. An omer is a unit of measure. On the second day of Passover, in the days of the Temple, an omer of barley was cut down and brought to the Temple as an offering. This grain offering was referred to as the Omer.

The counting is intended to remind us of the link between Passover, which commemorates the Exodus, and Shavu'ot, which commemorates the giving of the Torah. It reminds us that the redemption from slavery was not complete until we received the Torah. By counting each day and infusing it with meaning, we are reminded how easy it is to slip back into slavery, to struggle with our own personal bondage. May each day count towards renewal and growth in our own lives as well as that of our community to better put into practice the teachings of Torah.

You shall count for yourselves seven weeks, from when the sickle is first put to the standing crop shall you begin counting seven weeks. Then you will observe the Festival of Shavu'ot for the LORD, your G-d -Deuteronomy 16:9-10

Cantor Jennifer Bern-Vogel

Dear Friends:

Last month Rabbi Kohn, Cantor Bern-Vogel and Jerry Ripley conducted the first dedication of newly inscribed names on the Wall of Perpetual Memorial at our new building. What a pleasure it has been for me to consult with families about placing names upon this beautiful commemorative wall as the lighting and décor so wonderfully honors our loved ones! And, for the first time, we can sit down on gorgeous benches while praying and recalling the memories of relatives and friends which is so much a part of the Jewish tradition. I encourage everyone to visit this artfully designed room, not just to honor those who came before us, but also to enjoy a spectacular Chagall print in such an important setting.

Also, I encourage you to consider pre-paying for a "reservation" on the Wall of Perpetual Memorial. Not only will this lock in the current pricing of $650 for temple members but it will give you some peace of mind that you've made arrangements. If that seems awkward to you, I must say that those who have done this actually express that this gives them great comfort and satisfaction that they have begun to organize their affairs. So, please consider this option. I am available in the Temple Office to answer your questions from 9:30 to 5 Tuesday -Thursday and until 4:00 on Friday. I look forward to hearing from you.

Robetta Darrow, Temple Administrator

From our Temple President

I have had so many encouraging comments from congregants who have thanked me for taking on the role of President and who share my excitement about our new Temple. Attendance at services, and for special events, continues to be high since our opening ceremonies. You would almost think that the 'job' of being President is one of brief speeches, lots of handshakes and hugs, and of making awards presentations. Those things are a part of the role a President plays in congregational life but there are also many difficult times, to which many of our past Presidents can attest.

Our Congregation continues to search for ways to manage our limited budget in order to provide the services that each of you have come to expect. Our Temple Administrator, Treasurer, and Financial Secretary have done an outstanding job of holding down expenses and serving our member's individual issues. At our Annual Meetings for the past five years, we have outlined for you our revenue 'crisis.' We simply do not take in enough to pay for our operation. Your Capital Campaign contributions helped to build a beautiful new Temple but those contributions do not fund our operating budget. That is done through our dues and is the responsibility of all members of the Congregation. When there are budget shortfalls, the membership must bear those costs and we face significant shortfalls at this time. We have 230 active member families (excluding associates). If each active member family unit were to increase their dues by $250 per year, we would be able to meet our budget.

Rabbi Emeritus Hillel Cohn,
for being honored as one of three recipients of the "Heroes of the Heartland" Award presented by Stater Bros. Charities and for receiving the 2013 Amar EsEntregarse Award presented to him by the Catholic Diocese of San Bernardino

This financial burden should not be incurred by a small group of congregants but by all. Even if you are in a limited dues category or on adjusted dues, you should participate in supporting the Congregation's financial health.

I ask that each of our members contribute an additional $250 above their pledged dues before June 30th. In addition, I request that your current dues pledge be increased by the same $250 (about $20 per month) during our pledge requests for the new fiscal year beginning in July. As with many of you, I struggle with my personal budget. I am personally increasing my pledge, this year and next, by $300 because I clearly see the need to support our Congregation. My pledge is 20% higher than the amount I requested from you. I challenge you to meet or exceed my pledge. If you can afford more, please be generous. The financial stability of our Temple is at stake.

B' Shalom,

Paul Zipperstein

Home of Eternity Cemetery

The Home of Eternity Cemetery was established in the early 1850's when the first Mormon pioneers gave a parcel of land to the Jewish community to be a sacred burial ground. Originally deeded to Marcus Katz, a leading Jew in the community, our cemetery's ownership was then turned over to Paradise Lodge of B'nai B'rith and in the 1930's the cemetery was turned over to Congregation Emanu El. Today, the Home of Eternity Cemetery is the oldest Jewish cemetery in continuous use in Southern California and was designated as an historical site for the State of California a number of years ago.

Our cemetery, located at 8th and Sierra Way in San Bernardino, has been expanded at least three times and today provides graves for ground burial, mausoleum crypts for entombment and a cremation columbarium. It is well maintained and continues to be a place of sanctity. It is operated by a volunteer Board of Managers.

Funeral plans will be a consideration for us all at some point in time. And, although planning one's funeral in advance may be uncomfortable, it offers advantages. Making funeral plans before you need them avoids many difficulties – and it doesn't have to be an uncomfortable task. Planning ahead for the inevitable relieves one's survivors of this burden and insures that one's funeral will be carried out according to one's wishes.

The price for graves, crypts and niches at the Home of Eternity has been the same for many years. In light of increased maintenance costs, the prices will be changed as of May 1, 2013. Even at these higher prices, the cost of burial space at Home of Eternity is substantially less than at any other Jewish cemetery in Southern California and at other cemeteries in the Inland Empire. And, payment for graves, crypts and niches can be spread out over a two, three, four or five-year period at no interest.

To discuss funeral pre-planning and the selection of graves, crypts or niches, please feel free to contact me to arrange for a visit to the cemetery. To do this prior to May 1st will enable you to take advantage of the current, extremely moderate, prices.

School News

The month has been filled with lots of learning and wonderful celebrations.

The School for Jewish Living students enjoyed the fun-filled Purim Carnival, sponsored by our creative youth group, T.Y.G.E.R. which is led by Jessica Campbell. The children even had the opportunity to win goldfish this year!

On March 7th we had a Family Shabbat Dinner and Service. Students of all grades participated. They made celebrating Shabbat so meaningful with their beautiful voices led by Charlie Kramer, our music specialist. Thank you to all who brought delicious food and desserts to share.

It seemed that Passover followed right on the heels of Purim! We'd like to thank our amazing Sisterhood for hosting the Model Seder for our SJL students on Sunday, March 24th. After the seder, we also attended a program about summer camp, presented by Steve Gerrard, the director of Camp Mountain Chai.

On Sunday, April 14th the SJL will celebrate Yom Ha'atzmaut with Israeli dancing, creative projects and delicious food. Please plan to attend.

Thank you to the temple staff and Board of Directors, the SJL faculty, Sisterhood and T.Y.G.E.R. and all of the SJL families for your hard work and support of our School for Jewish Living.

Sidra Knox
April 20, 2013

Hello fellow Templ(ers). My name is Sidra Knox. I am 12 (going to be 13) and my Bat Mitzvah is April 20th this year. Background check - I have a mother and a father, twin brothers, an older sister, two yappy dogs and a lazy bearded dragon. I love to read but sadly I judge books by their covers (literally), which really narrows down my selection. That is why you don't see me read a lot. My favorite subject is probably Math, though I really HATE science. My favorite hobby is baking cupcakes, which everyone loves, but I'm always too lazy to do it. Not to toot my own horn but they will be the best cupcakes you've ever tasted! My favorite colors are orange and blue and I'm completely obsessed with music boxes. I realized this after finding an amazing music box in the Sisterhood Gift Shop and every time I went to temple I always checked in "The Shop" for it. My other interests include shopping hanging out with friends, making music videos, taking photos and making people laugh. I am so excited to share my Bat Mitzvah with my community and I hope everyone will attend.

SJL Students Celebrate Yom Ha'atzmaut

Students from the School for Jewish Living will be celebrating Yom Ha'atzmaut (Independence Day) on Sunday, April 14 from 11:30 - 12:30. Students will perform music and everyone will enjoy some Israeli dancing. Also, lunch will be served to students and their families followed by cookie and cupcake decorating. For more information, contact Jillian Snyder.

(Temple Youth Group of Emanu El, Redlands)

Spring has finally arrived and in celebration of the longer days, we're planning an exciting TYGER trip to Knott's Berry Farm! Be sure to mark your calendars for Saturday, April 13th. Tickets will only be $40 purchased from TYGER and we'll be leaving from the temple parking lot at 8AM. Be sure to buy your tickets by April 6th, because this is one trip you definitely won't want to miss out on! Another big THANK YOU to all TYGER members who have donated time to make our events such a success. Our Purim Carnival on Sunday, February 24th was a blast. We had a wonderful turnout and raised some funds for future TYGER events.

The Wonderful World of Sisterhood!

April, spring, renewal, and beauty. I love this time of year when we plant our yards with beautiful new blooms and veggies so that our gardens will be lovely and yield food for us in the summer and fall. A colorful garden makes my spirits soar. This is also the month when my youngest child Sidra will be called to the torah as a Bat Mitzvah. We are excited that Sidra will have her Bat Mitzvah in this gorgeous new synagogue. We are so thrilled and proud to share our simcha with our Jewish community and friends.

Believe it or not, the fiscal year is creeping to an end and soon we will introduce our new board for the next year. If anyone is interested, we still have a few positions available.

Sisterhood has been very busy uniting our congregation in activities and programs. The community Passover Seder was a great success. Thank you to Mara Winick who worked so hard organizing, planning and paying attention to traditional details as she arranged a wonderful community Passover Seder led by our Rabbi and Cantor.

You may not realize, but many ladies have been working extremely hard behind the scenes to make sure our synagogue's kitchen run smoothly. Lori Fenster, our kitchen administrator, in particular has spent tireless hours organizing, inventorying, labeling and discovering additional items to unpack and store in the kitchen. Please help me in showing her and her committee our appreciation by thanking her the next time you see her. She truly is an "Unsung Heroine."

We have a brunch coming up on April 14th that we are really excited about. Susan Shimoff will be giving a lecture on stress, a topic she is quite enthusiastic about. I am sure we will come away from this lecture well informed as to how to better combat stress. I love that we have members who are eager to share their passion and knowledge with us. Sisterhood is looking forward to a joyous spring renewal full of activities for our members. Enjoy!

With Shalom,
Stacy Knox, Sisterhood President
