"Save the Groves, Eat a Zucchini: A Sacred Task"

Friday, Erev Shabbat, November 1, 2013, 7:30 pm

Bob Knight was born in Redlands in an orange grove. After college and graduate school in New York and 20 years as a telecom executive overseas in Japan, Indonesia, and Saudi Arabia, Bob realized what a wonderful place raising his kids in an orange grove would be. He returned to Redlands to manage his family's farm and citrus business. He is the founder of the Inland Orange Conservancy and Old Grove Orange Inc. He is a special Shabbat Guest!

Happy Chanukah

Dear Friends,

Yes, it is so very odd to be wishing you a Happy Chanukah before I have wished you a Happy Thanksgiving, but so be it this year.

We're all talking about the unusual confluence of the calendar, in which Chanukah comes "so early" this year. Actually, it comes on the same day every year—the 25th of Kislev. And, because our Jewish calendar is a lunar calendar, while the wider, secular calendar is a solar calendar, there are the rare years when Jewish festivals either come unusually late, or oddly early.

Besides the clumsiness of looking for Chanukah gifts in October, the real message of this oddity is the reminder that we Jews live in two universes. We have a foot entrenched in our Jewish rhythms, and we are governed by the dictates of the Western world. Ours is the task of either walking the tightrope, or choosing one or the other universe in which to primarily dwell. That is the message of the confluence of Chanukah and Thanksgiving this year.

Thus, as we plan menus which include sweet potato latkes, our dinner table conversations should ask, "How do we live as Jews in the wider world?" Then, sing Maos Tzur and watch a football game.

Rabbi Douglas Kohn

Remembering Kristallnacht With Music

The night of November 9th this year marks the 75th anniversary of Kristallnacht or 'the Night of Broken Glass' when in Nazi Germany, synagogues, shops and homes were ransacked, plundered and burned in 1938. My mother was 15 at the time. Many of you know her story: She was practicing the organ in the beautiful synagogue in her hometown of Bielefeld, Germany that night until dusk started to set in and it was time for her to go home. She locked the door with the key entrusted to her. The next morning, everything was in flames. Nothing of the synagogue remained – except the key which my mother still has in her possession. Last month, on October 29th I was privileged to be able to attend a commemoration in my mother's hometown of Bielefeld, Germany with my cousins and mother's sister from London; a dedication of plaques or Stolpersteine ['stumbling stones'] which were laid in front of the house built by my great grandfather around 1860.

On November 12th I will be the featured artist at a Kristallnacht Commemoration ceremony at Loyola Marymount University in Santa Monica. The program begins at 7pm and I will be accompanied by pianist, Tova Morcos. The concert, which is partially sponsored by the 39-ers Club of Los Angeles, is free and open to the public. If anyone happens to be in the area, I'd love to see some of you there!

Cantor Jennifer Betn-Vogel

Dear Friends:

November is special this year with overlapping of the Chanukah and Thanksgiving holidays which has become known as Thankgivukkah." Supposedly, this is a first time occurrence so, rather than stress out about how Chanukah seems to have arrived far too early this year, I suggest we embrace it and have some fun. Isn't that what life's all about, anyway? (See the 10/14/13 article, "Celebrating Thankgivukkah, a Once-in-a-Lifetime Holiday" in reformjudaism.org for more information). The article suggests that one might purchase a turkey-shaped menorah but I'm not certain that I can go quite that far but it does give me some "food for thought." And on that topic, please remember to mail us your donation for "Turkeys For The Hungry." Your donation helps provide turkeys to Cornerstone Compassion Center for distribution to needy families.

Please note that after a month filled with exciting events, fundraisers, learning, and religious observances, the Temple Office will be closed in observance of Thanksgiving on Thursday and Friday, November 28 and 29. Shabbat Services will be held as usual at 6:30 p.m. on Friday, November 29th with our Bar Mitzvah boy, Ben Hiller, leading the Kiddush. Please join Ben and his parents, Cathy and Cliff Hiller, on this Chanukah and Bar Mitzvah filled weekend!

Roberta Darrow, Temple Administrator

From our Temple President

We are fast approaching the date for the November 16 Autumn Gourmet Spectacular. This exiting fundraiser will be hosted by Martha Green who has not only been honored by our temple for her support and fund-raising skills but who is also a local celebrity and businessperson. She will be joined by our own temple member, David Cohen. David was honored this past year with CEE's President's Award for his many years of work on our Food and Wine galas. David also writes for Inland Empire Magazine and hosts a local television show that reviews restaurants. Martha and David will act as auctioneers for a live auction that includes resort vacations, a San Diego NFL weekend, and gourmet meals for you and your friends hosted by local chefs and temple members known for their culinary skills. In addition, there will be delicious food and wine tasting! Please join us.

I have now completed 2/3 of my presidential term at CEE. I would like to take a moment to thank our staff for the work it does every day for our Congregation. As a small congregation, our staff resources are limited so they shoulder a heavy workload. Please take a moment to thank them for all the work they do on your behalf. I also wish to express my thanks to our Executive Committee and Board of Directors. They put in many hours each month to attend meetings, conduct the business of the Temple, and participate on committees. I could not do my job without their support, counsel, and leadership.

Paul Zipperstein, Temple President

Turkeys For The Hungry

For years, via our partnership with the Cornerstone Food Pantry, our members have thoughtfully provided turkeys for hundreds of needy families who otherwise would not celebrate Thanksgiving. To help this effort again this year, kindly send your donation of any amount, payable to "Congregation Emanu El," and marked "Turkeys," to the Temple Office.

November is a very exciting month for TYGER; we have quite a few magnificent events planned! On Tuesday, November 26th we will be meeting at the temple to make an entire Thanksgiving dinner which we will deliver to the homeless. On Saturday, November 9th, we will be taking a trip to Los Angeles for Hanukkah shopping and to eat a delicious lunch at Canter's Deli! It will be a fun day out! The NFTY event Fall Kallah is being held at Camp Hess Kramer from November 22nd-24th. It is a great event which brings Southern California youth groups together for the weekend!! For more information on any of our upcoming events, please contact me! icampbelltyger@emanuelsb.org

School News

On Friday, October 11th, we held our second Family

Shabbat Service for this year which was a huge success. I was pleased to see a much larger crowd! Our Aleph through Gimmel students sounded terrific at the bema when they performed the Shabbat prayers. The potluck dinner was also a delicious treat. I would like to thank those families who volunteered and brought food to the event. I am sure that the turnout for our next Family Shabbat Service, scheduled for Friday, November 15, will be just as impressive with a spectacular Israeli meal prepared by our parent volunteers!

This month, we also have a special presentation from Camp Mountain Chai on Sunday, November 17 at 11:30 a.m. and the Barnes and Noble Bookfair which will take place on Sunday, November 24, from 12:00 noon to 3:00 PM at the Barnes and Noble store at the Citrus Plaza in Redlands. This is one of our biggest fundraisers of the year, so we are eagerly anticipating strong attendance. Cupcake decorating, gift wrapping, and activities are available for you and your children to enjoy. Make plans to buy gifts for your friends and loved ones at our book fair as Hanukkah is fast approaching (during Thanksgiving, no less!) I hope to see you all there!

Knowledge and Study: On Wisdom In Maimonides' Code of Jewish Law

November 5 & 12, 2013, 7:00 p.m.

Arguably, the greatest of all Jewish minds was Rabbi Moses ben Maimon, known as Maimonides (1135-1204), who wrote several books, including his Code of Jewish Law, the Mishnah Torah, which gives instruction on nearly everything. Fascinatingly, what does he write about knowledge and study, his two special gifts? We will study and gain knowledge, from the master, Maimonides, himself! Taught by Rabbi Douglas Kohn.

Introducing:

In Our Own Words

A New Feature of
Shabbat Services

Commencing this November, a new feature is being added to some Friday night Erev Shabbat Services. At select Services—check page 2 of the Bulletin every month for the Service Schedule—one Congregant will be invited to present his or her ideas on the meaning of Jewish community, or what he or she envisions community to be. This will be a rich opportunity for Congregation Emanu El to learn from and get to know one another. This project has been developed with our Membership Committee.

November 1

In Our Own Words speaker:
Ray Briant

Mark your calendars, and look forward to stimulating thoughts by your own Congregational members.

Benjamin Hiller
November 30, 2013

My name is Benjamin Joseph Hiller. I am 13 years old and I am in the 8th grade International Baccalaureate Program at Cesar Chavez Middle School in San Bernardino. My favorite subjects are History, Science, Math and Music. I spend my free time reading history books or watching the History Channel. I have played classical violin for the past five years and am learning guitar too. I have played on many sports clubs including baseball, wrestling and swimming. I took Junior Life Guard classes three years in a row to prepare for my certificate. I hope to enter 9th grade at Middle College High School next year and complete my associate's degree at the same time as my high school diploma. Someday, I would love to study history at U.C.L.A. My parents reward my good grades by traveling and taking me to rock concerts so I am always waiting for the next neat destination. I practiced hard to learn Genesis 41: 33-38 and my Haftarah for my BIG day so I hope you will all bring your family and friends to my Bar Mitzvah.

Temple Board of Directors Meeting

November 21, 2013, 7:00 p.m.

All Temple members are invited to attend and participate in the discussions regarding managing our Temple.

The Wonderful World of Sisterhood!

Happy Fall everyone. Wow, we barely get through the High Holy Days and Chanukkah is upon us. Yes that's right; it's just around the corner. This year, for American Jews, Chanukkah and Thanksgiving collide. I don't know about you, but we are going to showcase this "Once in a Lifetime Event" by omitting the traditional Thanksgiving mashed potatoes in favor of latkes. From what I have read, this anomaly has never happened before and will never happen again. I can just see my "Thanksgivukkah" table now!

November is full of fabulous activities that Sisterhood has planned for you. We have the Monica Piper comedian show early in the month, followed by Maj Madness on November 12. Then, our book club meets at my home on Thursday, November 14 at 6:30 p.m. to discuss, "I am Malala: The Girl Who Stood Up for Education and Was Shot by the Taliban" by Malala Yousafzai. Book club is open to all ladies interested in lively discussion and good food. Please contact me for more information. On November 17 we have our second Bagel schmooze and a Chanukkah Gift Shop and Sidewalk Sale. Come for the food, friendship and to shop for your Chanukkah items and gifts. Finally, on December 1st we are having our Chanukkah Dinner. The SJL kids will make the dinner decorations and share a few songs with us as well. Look for details in this Bulletin. What a great way to round out the Thanksgiving weekend than a wonderful, traditional Chanukkah dinner with family and friends. I hope to see you all at the many activities we have planned. Sisterhood takes great pride in our effort and ability to create and share a sense of family and home for everyone in our community.
