"...and you shall cast your sins into the waters, and you shall be made clean again..."

It is Tradition to go to flowing waters on Rosh Hashanah afternoon to symbolically cast sins into the waters, using bread crumbs to represent one's misdeeds.

Join for a walk or short drive to Ford Park and a meaningful High Holy Day family activity by the ponds, followed by the Service of casting our sins away. Call the Temple for more information or directions (Directions and maps will be available at the Temple on Rosh Hashanah).

Note: Should you have a loved one whose name you also would like to have read from the bema, please call the Temple Office.

Dear Friends,

Rav Beroka of Bei Hozai was often in the market of Bei Lapat. There he would meet Elijah the prophet. Once he said to Elijah, "Is there anyone in this market who has earned Eternal Life? Elijah said to him, "No." They were standing there when two men came along. Elijah said to him, "These two men have earned Eternal Life." Rav Beroka went to them and asked, "What do you do?" They replied, "We are jesters, and make the sad to laugh. When we see two people quarreling, we strain ourselves to make peace between them."

In this season of the High Holy Days, we are seeking to merit Eternal Life. We may endeavor to earn it through prayer, repentance or deeds of charity, the traditional means of such election. However, our story reminds us, that bringing cheer to others, or helping to make peace between two who are rancorous, also serves to earn such eternity.

May we try all the avenues this year. May we pray in earnest, offer sincere repentance and apologies, give generously, and very especially, bring smiles to the saddened, and peace to the troubled.

L,Shanah Tovah um'tukah, - for a sweet and healthy New Year!

Rabbi Douglas Kohn

At these High Holy Days, we conclude the Torah with solemnity and begin in joy once again; starting anew after reading some of the final passages of Deuteronomy, including chapter 30, verse 19: "I call heaven and earth to witness against you this day, and have set before you life and death, blessing and curse – therefore choose life..."

Despite the many challenges we each have to face, most of us have the freedom to choose how we confront them. Especially at this time of year, Jews have a chance to reflect on our actions and consciously try to do better. One of my favorite quotes which happens to be a Cherokee proverb is: "Don't let yesterday use up too much of today." We can mull over things, we can have regrets, we should feel sorry for hurts we may have caused or those that have been done to us, but then we need to start anew – it is time to choose life! The 12th century writings of Maimonides or RaMBaM could have been written by a theologian of the 21st century:

Do not imagine that character is determined at birth. We have been given free will. Any person can become as righteous as Moses or as wicked as Jereboam. We ourselves decide whether to make ourselves learned or ignorant, compassionate or cruel, generous or miserly. No one forces us, no one decides for us, no one drags us along one path or the other; we ourselves, by our own volition, choose our own way. [excerpted from Machzor Sha'arei Tshuvah]

Shanah Tovah! Blessings from my family to you and yours for a happy, healthy and fulfilling new year –

Cantor Jennifer Betn-Vogel

Dear Friends:

Thank you Temple Ambassadors and volunteers (Heidi Nimmo, Cherrie Lubey, Francesca Sweet, Phyllis Sweet, Joanne Singer, Rita Bramhall, Michelle Smith and Janice Guest) for helping the Temple Office at this very busy time of year. We absolutely could not have gotten it all done without you!

My husband says that I sometimes repeat myself but this time I am doing it deliberately so if you read my column last month, this is old news. If you didn't read this last month or if you don't recall, please read on This year, instead of mailing you a badge for the High Holy Days, we ask that you pick up your name badge from a table in the Merkaz as you enter the building. Ushers will expect you to wear your badge upon entering the Sanctuary. This is for both security reasons and to help us greet each other and offer wishes of L'shana Tova. In fact, 25% of our membership is comprised of new families who have joined our Temple within the past four years so please introduce yourself and help them feel welcome. If you haven't already contacted the Temple Office to prepare a name badge for a guest, we'll write one out when they arrive to services. Children aren't required to wear badges.

Please welcome with open arms our new members and our prospective new members who are with us at these High Holy Days!

Robetta Darrow, Temple Administrator

From our Temple President

In baseball it's called the "dog days of summer." College and professional football fans begin licking their chops in anticipation of the start of a new season. Our kids begin to cringe at the thought of going back to school. As Jews, this time is personally meaningful. It is special, it is Holy. We look forward to a new year and we look back on things we have done that require us to ask forgiveness from God.

Yes, the Jewish calendar tells us that the High Holy Days are here. In just a few days we will worship as a Congregation. I'm sure you have noted that we are back to our normal High Holy Day service schedule. With the additional space in our new Temple we can, once again, all worship together. I look forward to greeting each of you with a "Shanah Tovah" and a "Gut Yontif." Your Executive Committee and Board of Directors will be calling you on September 8th and 9th, during our annual Kol Nidre pledge drive, to ask you once again for your support. Your generosity last year was incredible. I hope we can count on you again. Your pledge last year, plus $1, will guarantee another successful pledge drive.

I also want to thank all of you for your response to our dues letters. Your dues pay for the operation of our Temple. It pays for staff, for utilities, for the education of our children, and for the administrative and office material we use to communicate with you all year. Without our members participation in this process, the daily functions of the Temple would not happen.

Paul Zipperstein, Temple President

Elijah Swedlove
September 28, 2013

My name is Elijah Swedlove and I am the 12th Bar/Bat Mitzvah of my family here in the Inland Empire. I am SO looking forward to my Bar Mitzvah that I can hardly wait! I am in the 8th grade at Cope Middle School, Redlands. I am also the middle child in my family; between my two sisters. I play water polo with the Renegades, ride a bicycle, skateboard and mostly, I like to annoy my sisters. My family has been in this Jewish community for four generations, dating back to when the synagogue was located on 8th and E Streets. I look forward to seeing everyone at my Bar Mitzvah on September 28th. Please come share a smile with me.

Yom Kippur Afternoon
 Mincha Speakers

On Yom Kippur Afternoon it has been a wonderful tradition at Temple Emanu El to enjoy hearing congregants share their own words. This year's speakers will address "My Most Significant Jewish Moment." Over the years, we have heard memorable presentations.

This year, we are honored to have five congregants continue this tradition, and we encourage every one to be present on Yom Kippur Afternoon to hear their thoughtful words. Our speakers this year are:

Melody Bell
 Jamie Kogler
 Judith Smith
 Mark Levy

In advance, we appreciate their preparation and meaningful thoughts.

School News

As you and your children were busy preparing for the beginning of the new school year, I, too, was doing the same. I spent the majority of the summer reviewing the materials and resources available in our school and reorganizing them for our teachers to use for their classes this year as well as ordering new textbooks and workbooks to add to the school's inventory. Also, with Rabbi Kohn's help, I put together a curriculum for the year that I believe will be rewarding and enriching for our students. I also prepared for our opening school faculty meeting which was held on August 21 just before school started to give our teaching staff an opportunity to review their schedules and discuss classroom, teacher, and student expectations.

If you haven't already done so, please send in your SJL registration packets as soon as possible. Our first day of classes began on Sunday, August 25. School hours are from 9:30-11:30 am on Sundays and 4:00 to 6:00 pm on Wednesdays, excluding holidays.

Keep in mind that due to Labor Day and the High Holy Days, we will NOT have school on the following dates:

- Sunday, Sept. 1
- Wednesday, Sept. 4
- Wednesday, Sept. 25

I am very excited about the start of the new school year and also look forward to seeing you all during the High Holy Days. Until then, L'shana tova!

Two Great Unusual Jewish Novels: And Fascinating Discussion!!

Led by Rabbi Douglas Kohn

October 1, 2013, 7:00 p.m.

A Blessing on the Moon,
by Joseph Skibell

Written from the brilliant and unusual perspective of one who was just shot during the Holocaust, instead of resting in peace in the World to Come, Chaim Skibelski wanders the earth in a world of both familiarity and absurdity, encounters family and friends, goes to a hotel catering to murdered Jews, converses with a German soldier, and ponders why the moon no longer rises. Brilliant, witty and unforgettable!

October 8, 2013, 7:00 p.m.

Snow in August,
by Pete Hamill

In the year 1947, Michael Devlin, eleven years old and 100 percent American-Irish, is about to forge an extraordinary bond with a refugee of war from Prague, Rabbi Judah Hirsch. Standing united against a common enemy, they will summon from ancient sources a power in desperately short supply in modern Brooklyn—a force that's forgotten by most of the world but is known to believers as magic. They will summon from its centuries of rest the Golem, to once again fight evil and protect the vulnerable—in post-war Brooklyn!

Adult B'nai Mitzvah Returns!

- ◆ Are you an adult interested in becoming a Bar or Bat Mitzvah?
- ◆ Maybe you were not Bar or Bat Mitzvah when you were young?
- ◆ Perhaps you were not Jewish at that time?

Then, consider joining our class and becoming an Adult Bar/Bat Mitzvah this fall!

Classes will meet Wednesday evenings,
6:15-7:15, starting October 2

The Wonderful World of Sisterhood!

Shalom and Shana Tovah. Sisterhood has been extremely busy getting ready for the New Year. Over the summer our gift shop committee went to the Gift Show in Los Angeles and purchased beautiful Judaica to sell in our gift shop. Be sure to check out all the new items which will enrich your home and religious observances.

We kicked off the new SJL year with a very successful Bagel Schmooze. It was so exciting to see so many families and congregants visiting and enjoying the delicious food. Thank you Sisterhood members for providing us with such a lovely spread! Also Sisterhood has been busy with the High Holy Days. We provided the desserts for S'lichot, as well as the apples and honey and homemade Challot and honey cakes. On Yom Kippur we will also provide the traditional "break the fast" following the final shofar blast. Looking forward, we will take care of our congregants by providing the sweets for Sukkot and the candy plus candy apples for Simchat Torah.

On October 20 we have our first brunch of the new year. Not only will we have delicious food, but we will also have a wonderful speaker on genealogy, so remember to get your reservations in early. Finally, mark your calendars for November 9th for a comedy show starring Emmy award winning comedy writer Monica Piper. It is going to be a lot of fun and something we have never done before at CEE.

You may remember that, back in June, I set a goal for our Sisterhood membership to reach 100 members this year. I am thrilled to say that we are very close to that goal! We only need a few more so please help me reach this goal of 100 members to commemorate Women of Reform Judaism's 100 years by joining Sisterhood. We have had a wonderful start to this New Year and Sisterhood thanks you for your support. I know all of our Sisterhood members are excited to serve this congregation in the coming year. May this year be filled with love and kindness.
