Rabbinic Reflections

In this secular New Year, I wish you much positive change. In the year ahead, we at Emanu El are bringing you more opportunities to engage in personal and spiritual growth. We're excited to offer you a series of wellness themed shabbatot, where we will invite wellness professionals to teach you how to care for our body, mind and spirit. We will be starting a new Women's Torah Study group once a month, and we are beginning a Women's Spiritual Circle. We will be experimenting with different forms of Shabbat worship, and we will be starting a series of Interfaith Family gatherings. We will also start up the Tribe, a young adults small group, and be offering social gatherings for our young adults, young families and teens.

So, as thoughts turn to new beginnings and change, we hope you will find renewal, rededication and growth of mind and spirit at Congregation Emanu El. We also hope that your relationship with your community and the members in it deepens as we offer you more opportunities to connect and create community.

It is Torah that points us towards change as we move from the end of the Book of Genesis into the Book of Exodus. Parshat Vayechi, the final portion in the book of Genesis is a hefty one in which Jacob finally dies and blesses Joseph and his sons, Ephraim and Menashe.

What we become in life is always a result of our choices. In the Joseph narrative, what Joseph became was strong and powerful and able to forgive his brothers' crime against him and change for the better. This choice led him to reconnect with his brothers and father, and to meet his grandsons. Rabbi Jonathan Sacks teaches in his commentary on Parshat Vayechi that "We can only change the world if we can change ourselves. That is why the book of Genesis ends with the story of Joseph and his brothers. Jacob is charged with the task of transforming the moral vision of mankind, but he can only do so if individual Jews, of whom the forerunners were Jacob's children, are capable of changing themselves."

Rabbi Sacks reminds us that teshuva, repentance, brings us freedom and change allows us to create new concepts for ourselves. In the past five years Congregation Emanu El has experienced many changes. We hope, that like Joseph, these changes can lead us to discovering our best selves.

We hope to create new strengthened communities within Congregation Emanu El and to expand what we have to offer you and your families. Our goal is to engage as many of you as possible in living your best Jewish life in 2019. As we work together to provide a series of spiritual, secular, cultural and social justice opportunities for you and family to engage in your Jewish identity.

Together we can create the community that you desire. May this New Year bring positive change for all of us. This year how about making a new year's resolution to participate and help create the Jewish community you so crave.

B'Shalom,

Rabbi Lindy Reznick

Cantorial Comments

The Exodus from Egypt occurs in every human being, in every era, in every year and in every day.

Rabbi Nachman of Breslov

Happy New Year!! How lucky we are in our Jewish tradition that we get to celebrate not one, not two, but a host of New Years, not to mention new months! At the start of each new Hebrew month - Rosh Chodesh – we welcome the new moon and pray for goodness and blessings, long life, peace and prosperity.

Rosh Hashanah, our spiritual new year, provides not only a personal but communal opportunity to reframe our attitudes, review our behaviors and renew our hopes and dreams as we pause to meditate on the year we left behind.

This month, we celebrate Tu B'shvat, the New Year of the Trees, a beautiful opportunity to teach appreciation and awareness of the environment, our one and only [currently] inhabitable planet, which so desperately needs our nurturing and protection. And as we welcome the secular New Year of 2019, we also offer prayers for the new Hebrew month of Shevat.

May these 'bentsch-marks' give each of us the opportunity to work toward a revitalization of our goals with the reminder that while it is never easy, it is possible to change old habits.

Finally, on the third Friday of this month, we will be celebrating Shabbat Shirah, the 'Sabbath of Song' – which takes its name from the celebratory Torah portion 'Beshalach' – the Exodus from Egypt and the crossing of the Red Sea! In the spirit of this Jewish music month, let me conclude with the inspirational Rabbi Nachman of Breslov:

Get into the habit of singing a tune. It will give you new life and fill you with joy.

Get into the habit of dancing. It will displace depression and dispel hardship.

Happy New Year from our House to Yours!,

Cantor Jennifer Bern-Vogel

Presidential Perspectives

On Sunday, December 9, we gathered to light a Community Menorah in Downtown Redlands. Members of Congregation Emanu El, along with those from our interfaith community, marked the first and historic moment such an event has happened in our town. Rabbi Reznick worked with the city of Redlands and Mayor Paul Foster to arrange this most memorable event. As we lit all eight candles of our Menorah, which was so beautifully crafted by Robert O'Rourke, the one hundred or so present lit their own individual Menorahs. The light of the candles shone in a glow and warmth that was felt far and wide. I look forward to this being an annual tradition for our community as we continue to be good neighbors with the city of Redlands and our interfaith brothers and sisters.

Our new and improved camera surveillance system is now installed and working well. Twenty-two High Resolution/4k cameras are now trained on every corner of our synagogue both inside and out. This will allow staff and local law enforcement to better monitor every corner of our Temple, both day and night. Thank you to member Phil Holder who coordinated this project, and those Congregants who generously donated to our Temple Security Fund which will help offset the eight-thousand dollar cost.

I am also pleased to tell you about the start of a very ambitious project nearly two and a half years in the making; one which will allow us the opportunity to complete the northern facing section of our Temple campus. The project calls for a Biblical Garden along with an outdoor Gallery where a variety of presentations and celebrations will take place when completed. This is a joint project between Congregation Emanu El and the Jewish National Fund (JNF). The JNF is allocating a portion of funds from the estate of John and Dora Boruchin who were long-time residents of the Inland Empire and great supporters of Israel. Several years ago the Boruchins bestowed their vast estate to the JNF. Long-time congregant and Attorney, Paul Shimoff, who represented the Boruchins, was instrumental in his appeal to JNF that a portion of the Boruchin estate be reallocated to Congregation Emanu El and the local Jewish community.

It's been my honor to have worked alongside Paul to help make this project a reality. Along with additional fundraising, these dollars will finance this project which will focus on education and scholarships championing the vitality and survival of Israel. This stands to be a tremendous asset for our Congregation that will improve the aesthetics and functionality of our Synagogue while also creating opportunities for the larger Southern California community to visit our Temple and sample the various lectures and educational opportunities which will be planned.

We owe our deepest appreciation and gratitude to Paul Shimoff for his tireless work these past two and a half years to bring this wonderful opportunity to Congregation Emanu El.

What a great way to begin 2019 as our Jewish community continues on its forward path to growth, prosperity and a bright new day.

Happy 2019 to all!

Greg Weissman

Treasurer's Report

Happy New Year! I hope that you had a safe, peaceful and meaningful holiday season.

The financial health of the Congregation has not changed radically over the last several months. As I write this column there are several weeks left in 2018 and hopefully the Congregation will receive many generous year end donations from our wonderful members! I plan on presenting a mid-year income statement in the February bulletin.

Please support the fundraisers that will be happening at CEE in the next several months. And as always – any financial support you can give to your Congregations is greatly appreciated.

Shalom,

Kathy Rosenfeld

Temple Board of Directors Meeting

January 17, 2019, 7:00 pm

Members of the congregation

Sisterhood Board Meeting

Sunday, January 6, 2019, 10:00 a.m.

All Sisterhood Members are welcome

Sisterhood Speaks

As this is being written the Sisterhood Nominating Committee is meeting to develop a board of directors to lead our organization for 2019-2020. We have already received commitments from several people to join us. You can imagine that I am extremely gratified that there are women who wish to continue and build upon the work that the current board has done the past two years and the tradition of support for Congregation Emanu El. Every social program, holiday dinner, and religious celebration we undertake is for the benefit of members of Congregation Emanu El, the larger Jewish community and its friends. Our fund raising efforts support Congregation Emanu El, its School for Jewish Living and the national and international programs of the Women of Reform Judaism. I would love to welcome new women to the Sisterhood board. If you would like to explore volunteering with Sisterhood, please give me a call (714-813-1792 or 909-864-2655) or send an email (lhsoltz@gmail.com). I promise you will find our board full of bright, energetic women, and we can assure you that your efforts will give you joy in knowing you have advanced the cause of Am Yisroel.

At this moment we need help with the role of Oneg Shabbat coordinator. It is a custom at Congregation Emanu El to have a social hour following services each Friday night. Every week one or two families host the oneg following Shabbat services. An oneg may be hosted for a special event, such as a birthday or anniversary, or simply to do the mitzvah. Maria Vallejo is in the kitchen Friday nights to set up and clean up, but the hosts provide the refreshments. If you and your family would like to participate, we would be most grateful, but we also need a coordinator to keep track of which dates are spoken for. In order to host, contact me or Judy Filsinger in the temple office. If you can undertake this important task, please call me.

Our January mini program, Stories From Our Traditions, will be held on Sunday, January 13 in the social hall from 2 until 4 pm. We'll be sharing stories from various religious traditions and discussing responses. Again we will have guests from other faiths as we celebrate our commonalities. This is a Sisterhood event, so of course refreshments will be served, and there will be no charge. Everyone is invited.

We are planning a blow out Casino Royale evening on Saturday, January 26 from 6 p.m.

Play, stay and enjoy. Advance tickets are $36 per person ($40 at the door) and includes dinner, gaming money, soft drinks and one drink ticket. Bring your friends, we always have a good time.

This year we have begun to form a Bikkur Cholim Committee. We aim to support and comfort those in the community who are ill, homebound, or isolated. We are in the process of developing a program, lead by Kathy Trainor. A few people have expressed interest and the more participants we have, the more we could do. If you have time to donate to this mitzvah, let me know and I will pass your information to Kathy.

On behalf of the Sisterhood Board of Directors and their families, to all members of Congregation Emanu El, their neighbors and friends, I wish you Happy New Year and a year of peace, health and prosperity throughout 2019.

Leslie Soltz

President, Sisterhood

From Our Director of Education & Youth

Shalom Chaverim!

The School for Jewish Living had a wonderful December. We made lovely Chanukah crafts, collected enough items to create 25 hygiene bags donated to homeless veterans, and collected all the gifts we needed for our adopted refugee family. I wanted to thank those of you who supported the school at our Barnes and Noble book fair! We had a great time at this event and raised money that will go towards items we need for our students.

Looking ahead, we will come back from winter break on January 6th. During January The School for Jewish Living will go on a field trip to Garden Works to celebrate Tu B'Shevat as well as planting parsley in preparation of Pesach and joining together for a Tu B'Shevat Seder. We will have a dine out fundraiser at Panera on January 27th from 4-8pm - please grab some delicious food and help our school in the process! Thanks so much for your support and I look forward to another engaging month.

L'Shalom,

Jillian Snyder

Mental Health Awareness in Action

FORTUNE 500 CEO MAKES EMPLOYEE MENTAL HEALTH A PRIORITY

Mental Health Awareness In Action, CEE's social action program to normalize mental illness, is starting the new secular year with some welcome news.

Cisco Systems CEO, Chuck Robbins is making mental health a priority to reduce stigma among his 75,000 employees. Cisco develops, manufactures and sells high-technology services and products in Silicon Valley. Robbins became aware of the silent suffering surrounding mental illness early last year when an executive confided in him about a family member who was struggling and potentially suicidal.

"I wanted to help, and in that process it became clear to me that this is a terrible situation and I really sensed the desperation that people feel," Robbins said.

Sadly, the shocking suicides of Kate Spade and Anthony Bourdain a few months later spurred Robbins to action, by address mental illness head-on with his employees. Robbins wrote an email and sent it to Cisco's almost 75,000 employees with the subject line "Making Mental Health a Priority." "In light of recent tragedies, I want to talk about the importance of mental health."

Robbins' email went on, "We all know friends, family, and coworkers battling mental health conditions, or maybe you're going through your own struggles. He encouraged employees to "talk openly and extend compassion," he asked that they "have each other's backs," and told them that professional support is available."

Because of the silence around mental illness, Robbins didn't know if employees would be willing to open up about sensitive topics like depression and suicide. There was the risk that some might view it as an executive overstepping his bounds into their personal lives and others might wonder if they would face retribution now or in the future. Robbins had no idea what was about to happen. More than 100 employees responded to his note within days, some sharing in painful detail their own personal struggles.

One employee responded, "I had never received an email like that before or heard anyone talk about mental health anywhere I've worked. It was a relief that someone was making it OK. He swung open a door."

For five years Congregation Emanu El has been swinging open the door to talk about mental health in our community. As 2019 begins we are encouraged by the enlightenment at Cisco Systems and feel affirmed that our energy is well placed in making it OK to talk about mental illness in the synagogue and beyond.

Sunday, January 13, 2018
2:00 to 4:00 pm
Congregation Emanu El Social Hall

What are the stories that matter to us?
How do our Jewish stories blend and interweave with stories from other religious traditions?

Sisterhood invites you to bring a story from our religious tradition, a story that means something to you – perhaps that delights you, warms your heart, or that bothers you.

We're inviting friends from different traditions to join us and share their stories as well. Come and bring a daughter, a sister, a mother, or a friend from a different religion.
