Rabbinic Reflections

Judaism is a verb. I know grammatically it is a noun, but what if we thought of it as a verb. We have just lived through our festival of Freedom and are in the middle of our counting the Omer from Passover to Shavuot. This time period is a sacred time where tradition encourages us to actively acknowledge each day as sacred. This special counting is a Jewish form of mindfulness -a way to infuse each day as a spiritual preparation for receiving Torah. It is an opportunity to create a ritual out of the counting of the Omer. I have opted to write an Instagram post using Rabbi Kedar's book on counting of the Omer. For me, the ritual of reading her text and choosing what to highlight for my own posting and reflecting, has become a meaningful moment I look forward to each day. Research says that it takes somewhere between 21 to 66 days to form a habit. The Omer is 49 days long. That is the perfect amount of time to create a new habit, making each day sacred.

When teaching about Passover, I highlight how it is an opportunity to push refresh on our spirituality, start over and rededicate ourselves to something positive. I also teach about attempting to be free of those negative habits that "enslave" us or keep us in a narrow space. The Counting of the Omer is a daily opportunity to create ritual around a mindful moment in your day. With your counting and blessing, you might include a moment of mindful breathing, write a journal entry, pray, or just sit and listen quietly. My enthusiasm for counting the Omer has grown with my understanding of the process. A number of modern spiritual books on counting the Omer have been published, that can help guide you through the process and inspire you.

So as our weather warms up and our hills are a bloom, I encourage you to take the time to form a new positive habit - one which includes counting, mindfulness, prayer, or an offering of gratitude each day. I invite you to make Judaism into a verb. Let Judaism become something you do this spring - not just something that is.

B'Shalom,

Rabbi Lindy Reznick

Cantorial Comments

Yom Hashoah – Yom Ha'atzma'ut /
And...Celebrating remarkable women!

This month we literally transition from sadness to joy - from the solemn observance of Yom Hashoah [27th of Nisan/May 1st] to the celebration of Yom Ha'atzma'ut. [5 Iyar/May 10]

The commandment 'never to forget' is part of our heavy history, but as we witness the departure of the last survivors of the Holocaust within the next ten to twenty years, the urgency to impart understanding and fight hate and intolerance is even greater. A week later, we celebrate our spiritual homeland and independence of Israel; as Diaspora Jews, our relationship with beautiful Eretz Yisrael is fraught with political and moral challenges.

We cannot turn our backs on this part of our history either – we must face it and engage in important discourse and conversation.

This is a special month for other reasons too. I dedicate this article to some remarkable women: Exactly 80 years ago, May 10, 1939, my mother and her younger sister were lucky to leave Nazi-infested Germany on a train bound for England. The train was called 'the Kindertransport' literally – a transport for children. This time in history informed the fate of these two sisters and their families well as and countless others who were less fortunate.

At the end of this month, I'll be in Iowa to memorialize another incredible survivor of Hitler's regime, from Vienna - my mother's z.l. best friend, Gusti Kollman, who died last month at the miraculous age of 106. Still of strong mind and body until just a couple of months ago – a woman who loved life with every ounce of her being – Gusti actually went zip-lining last year on one of her senior outings!

Last, but not least, I am privileged to be able to participate in the Installation of my wonderful clergy partner and first female rabbi of Congregation Emanu El, Lindy Reznick. This initial year together has been one of revelation, of laughter and tears, of creative engagement and exciting new collaborative opportunities. I salute my dear friend and colleague: as you are officially 'inducted', may you and all of us at Congregation Emanu El, go from strength to strength as we continue to grow together. Chazak, Chazak, v'nitchazek!

Shalom,

Cantor Jennifer Bern-Vogel

Presidential Perspectives

I hope this Bulletin Article finds you well and that your Passover observance with family and friends was filled with warmth and meaning.

On May 16 at 7:00 pm we will have our Annual Congregational Meeting.

All are encouraged to attend this yearly event which offers a unique opportunity for Temple members to learn more about the inner workings of our Temple. A Board sponsored Bar-B-Que is also part of the meeting, so bring your appetite!!

On Friday, May 3rd Congregation Emanu El will formally install Rabbi Lindy Reznick. During the first year of an incoming Rabbi's tenure, it is tradition to have a formal recognition and installation ceremony. I hope you are able to be present for this very special event, as well as make a contribution in honor of Rabbi Reznick.

At April's Board meeting, Michael and David Orland, presented a check to our Synagogue on behalf of Burt Orland, their father.

In life and now in death, Burt's love for our Synagogue continues on. I would like to thank Mike and Dave for personally delivering this most generous gift. Your presence and heartfelt presentation made this moment so very special and meaningful. I know your dad would be proud of you both.

The slate for our incoming Board of Directors will be presented at the Annual meeting. Congregation Emanu El begins its new fiscal year on July 1, and with that comes a new lineup of Directors and Officers. I will be presiding over this annual meeting as one of my last formal functions as Temple President. I look forward to seeing each of you there.

Warmly,

Greg Weissman

Treasurer's Report

Shalom!

Attached please find the Board approved budget for CEE for the 2019/2020 fiscal year.

The Board voted to publish the Board Approved Budget prior to the May 16th annual meeting to give all congregants the opportunity to review the budget and formulate any questions in regards to the income or expenses noted on the budget. Please feel free to contact me at kathy.rosenfeld@gmail.com with these questions, or bring the question to the annual meeting.

Some note worthy points about the budget:

1. This is a budget that was developed and approved by the Board of Directors but will take the entire congregation working together to be successful.
2. As your Treasurer, I will manage the expenses of the Temple to come within the budgeted amount throughout the fiscal year. If a line item in the budget goes over what we expected, it will be addressed to the Board of Directors at our monthly meetings. Decisions will be made as soon as possible to decide if other line item expenses can be reduced so that our total expenses do not over the amount budgeted.
3. The Board has implemented a 3% increase to most congregant families. This increase will be seen in the July 2019 bill that will be sent each congregant by the end of June 2019. Please contact the Temple if you will be unable, or unwilling, to pay the dues that will have been calculated for you. We need to know at the beginning of our fiscal year if we will not be able to meet our budgeted dues amount so that programs and expenses can be reduced accordingly if congregants cannot, or will not, be able to meet the increased dues requested.
4. The Board has estimated several fundraising events to balance our budget. Working as a congregation, the fundraising event goal can be achieved. Please contact a member of the Board if you are interested in working on a fundraising event.
5. A Building Fund line item will be added to your monthly statement. The amount charged to each congregant family is 20% of your annual dues not to exceed $600 per congregant family. As our Temple Building ages, more repairs and maintenance charges are being incurred. The building fund will help to cover monthly maintenance and repair costs and to save monies to be used in future years on major repairs. We all use the building for worshipping, learning, and congregating, therefore we should all assist in the maintenance costs of the building. The Board of Directors agreed that a building fund should be implemented this year to assist us in maintaining the upkeep on our beautiful building.
6. The Mortgage Retirement Fund will not longer be automatically added to your annual commitment. There will be an additional line item on your monthly billing statement to send any additional funds you may have to help reduce the principal balance on the mortgage. The Board is discussing other methods to reduce the principal portion of the mortgage (and therefore the monthly interest due on the debt). If you have any suggestions please send them to the Board of Directors.

Congregation Emanu El is blessed to have a beautiful house of worship, a dedicated and hardworking clergy and staff, and wonderful congregant members. The only way our house of worship will remain fiscally solid is for each and every member of our congregation to give generously both financially and through the gift of volunteering their time and talents.

I look forward to seeing you all at the annual meeting on May 16th.

Shalom,

Kathy Rosenfeld

Sisterhood Speaks

My two year term as president of Congregation Emanu El Sisterhood is rapidly coming to a close. Like any period of life, this past two years has been full of challenges and rewards. When one assumes a leadership role, one feels responsible for every aspect of an organization.

And you know, if you have been reading my columns, the success of Congregation Emanu El has been my primary goal, and I am quite proud of the work we have done to raise money and plan social and educational events for this congregation.

This past April has been exceedingly busy, with a fun talent show, an inspiring Congregational Seder, a stimulating Women's Seder, and a mini-program led by Beth Freimuth. Thank you to everyone who has worked to make Sisterhood programs fun, enriching, spiritual and welcoming. One of the greatest rewards has been getting to know so many new people and deepening my friendship with those I have known awhile. I have to thank the temple board of directors, especially Greg Weissman and Stuart Sweet for their advice and support. Rabbi Reznick and Cantor Jennifer Bern Vogel have been the source of many wonderful ideas. They have made the task of Sisterhood President stimulating.

What is left to do? We are holding a havdalah service and supper on Saturday evening, June 22 at the home of Lori Fenster. This will be in lieu of a final brunch (so everyone will attend the SJL picnic on June 2 and Shavuot services on June 9, right?) It will be a fitting end to an inspiring year. Havdalah, dinner and socializing will be the program. All are invited to attend.

At our havdalah and dinner on June 1 Sisterhood members will vote on the slate of candidates for the next two years. We are fairly certain that the following outstanding women will be elected. Our next president will be Karyn Lehmann, who has been an energetic First Vice President for me this past two years and also Co-Vice President of Ways and Means. We are still looking for a First Vice President for the 2019-2020 term. If you have ambitions to make a difference, we could use your help. Susan Damron will again plan enriching programs for our meetings as Vice President of Programing. Barbara Smith and Paula Kaye have helped expand our membership and will again be Co-Vice Presidents of Membership. Jill Weissman, as Vice President, will head our Ways and Means activities. We would love to hear from you if you would consider assisting her. The School for Jewish Living and our camp scholarships are supported by our Vice President of Religion, Youth and Education, which will be headed by Susanne Pastuschek again this year. Lori Fenster will continue to make all social activities here at Congregation Emanu El convenient by continuing as Administrative Services Vice President. With her help, we are switching our paper and tableware to ecologically sound items. I will continue to function as Community Services Vice President. It is such an important part of our service to the community — kiddish after Rosh Hashonah, break the fast at the end of Yom Kippur, Chanukah dinner, Peach seder. Thank goodness that Francesca Sweet is chairing the scheduling of Oneg Shabbats, as well as continuing as Parliamentarian. Debra Holder has assumed the office of Treasurer. Kimberly Wolfe-Morgan will continue as Recording Secretary and Michele Zipperstein will again be Corresponding Secretary. Lisa Wise Wolk and Margaret Shattuck will continue to operate the Sisterhood Gift Shop as manager and treasurer, respectively. We can always use a few more hands, so if you think you want to join in the fun, let one of us know!

Leslie Soltz

President, Sisterhood

From Our Director of Education & Youth

Hello Emanu El friends and family,

The School for Jewish Living is back after Spring Break and we are working hard toward our end of the year goals. During the month of April, we learned more about the prayers we recite through our Hebrew in Harmony program. We also enjoyed a school seder with students and families that was made possible by the generous donations of our school families and our Sisterhood. I was so pleased with the knowledge our students displayed when answering questions during our school seder. I didn't need to retell the story of Passover, our brilliant students did it for us!

Our May schedule is short due to holidays during this month. We will be celebrating Israel's Independence Day together with folk dances, Israeli food, and music on May 5th. Our last day of school is already approaching and we will commemorate this day with an ice cream social at Ford Park on June 2nd. We will also come together on Saturday, June 1st for game night and Havdalah from 6:00-8:00pm. I am collaborating with PJ Library for this event and it will be a fun and fulfilling evening for the entire congregation. We will have games for all ages, food, a special art activity, and a Havdalah service facilitated by our Emanu El leadership and a representative from PJ Library. Please mark this date on your calendars and help The School for Jewish Living welcome the beginning of our summer season!

Mental Health Awareness in Action

Do you remember when suicide was a crime? It still is in some places. Luckily we understand it much better. If only we could understand it well enough that we prevented every single one.

At least we're getting better. We understand enough to know that the right words and the offer of help at the right time stops it. So we know it is preventable. We need to get much better at watching for it, at knowing when, without hesitation or trepidation, to help.

Recently, three suicides in our country have seared us with the tragedy of the deaths. All suicides are tragic. If only he had understood that what he was feeling right now would not last and his despair would diminish..... If only she could see how beautiful her life would be if she just held on until she felt better.....

But these three stand out from the others for us as a nation. And we can see the implications for us right here in our Inland Empire. Two of them occurred late in March this year – a 16-year old boy and a 19 year-old girl who were at Marjory Stoneman High School in Parkland, Florida last year when 14 students and 3 faculty were gunned down. One was a father of a first grader among the children killed at Sandy Hook Elementary School in Newtown, Connecticut in 2012. All survivors.

28% of people who survive mass shootings develop PTSD. Add depression to that and the mix can be too hard to bear for some. Unless we help. Right here in San Bernardino and Redlands in 2015 we suffered a mass shooting and killing of 14 and then the perpetrators. Twenty-two were seriously injured. More than 3 years ago. Time has passed but we need to be aware that this kind of trauma lasts a very long time. We need to stay vigilant in the best way.

To understand more thoroughly what happens to survivors, please see the article in The Atlantic by Ashley Fetters, "Lasting Grief After Mass Shootings," March 28, 2019.

Why Do We Observe Mental Health Awareness Month?

1. Mental Illness affects every person directly or through a loved one.
2. Many people are ashamed of mental illness and don't seek help even though most mental illness is treatable.
3. We can end this shame by talking openly about depression, anxiety diagnoses, bipolar disorder, schizophrenia, post-traumatic shock.
4. Ending shame is a Jewish value.
5. Ending the stigma of mental illness has been the focus of our CEE social action program--Mental Health Awareness In Action.

Join us in supporting the end mental health stigma by putting on a mental health awareness ribbon this month.
