Rabbinic Reflections

It's almost Halloween and finally cold winds have come rushing through bringing crisp cool nights and early mornings. This weather is a happy shift from what feels like one groundhog day after another. The past 8 months have been grueling. And as this pandemic surges with yet another wave of Covid, we buckle down to re-invent pandemic Judaism. We have learned many things since March. We have learned that we can connect with one another even if through a screen or our Hollywood square zoom boxes. We have learned that the phone call is not a dead art. Picking up the phone to speak to another member or friend can make their day.

Over these past 8 months we have been challenged in so many ways, isolation, loneliness, depression, health scares, loss of normalcy, illness, loss of jobs, loss of friends and work colleagues. And yet the blessings that have sprouted in these strange times are equally grand. For me the blessings include spending much more time with my children, especially Izzy who I don't get to see enough; having Shabbat dinners at home with my whole family at a normal time; and getting to know my neighbors from my incessant walks with pepper, my energetic puppy.

Yes congregation Emanu El is still here. We are busily planning, and creating a new kind of Judaism, one that meets the needs of world that is evolving every day. For many of us we can't even fully imagine what this new Judaism, or new synagogue looks like in what we hope will be a post pandemic world. It is a honor and privilege to get to imagine and learn alongside you as we create what we hope will fill the many needs of 21st century life.

This pandemic has taught us that people, connection, and relationships are what really matter. Emanu El let us re-commit ourselves to one another, to caring for each other through these times. As the holidays approach, thanksgiving, Chanukah, and for some Christmas, we will feel that pain of this pandemic even more. So let's make sure that we continue to call, visit, drop meals and gift bags and check in on our friends and family who are struggling in this time.

Emanu El, at this point during the pandemic we are felling the weight, of the grief, and fear impounded over these many months. For many people, the longterm trauma and stress makes this time even harder than it was in the beginning of March. As the stuffing cooks, the smell of pumpkin pie wafts through our neighborhoods, let it be a call to spread love and let someone else know that we care. Please pick up the phone, donate, volunteer for important causes, call, text, e-mail so everyone feels a little extra love, during this holiday season while we grieve the loss of our normalcy.

Rabbi Lindy Reznick

Presidential Perspectives

November's getting better... we hope

We're all friends. So, let's not mince words here. It can be hard to feel grateful right now. 2020 hasn't exactly played out as expected. As I write this, the election is three weeks away and that's a lot of uncertainty. I don't think anyone is really sure what's going to happen.

But, it shouldn't let us stop being grateful. This month, in November, there's more than politics to talk about. For the theme of this month's article I chose "Getting Better," a track from the 1967 album Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band. I chose this album for two reasons. First of all, 1967 was the height of the Beatles' moustache-growing phase, as you can see by the picture. Moustaches and November are tied together by the "Movember" movement which encourages capable people to grow moustaches to raise awareness of mens' health issues. Second, because I genuinely believe it could be true. Maybe we're not at rock bottom yet, but sooner or later we'll be getting better all the time.

Or, as John Lennon opined, "It can't get no worse."

In November, it's time to be thankful for what we do have. Smart and decisive action by California's government has saved as many as a million lives. Amazing technological achievements make it possible for us to shop, socialize, and worship safely from home. Our friends are still friends and our family is still family. I promise, you can even find a way to overeat on Thanksgiving if you want to. The world's different, but for so many of us we have much to be grateful for.

I'm grateful for the hard work of our volunteers, our clergy, and our staff. Without all of you it would be impossible to hold together during such a unique year. I'm grateful for all the times that people told me they felt engaged at high holy days. I'm grateful for the events we're planning and for the future we're about to share together.

Oh, and if you want to hear "Getting Better," click anywhere on this article if you're reading the bulletin electronically.

Cantorial Comments

“The Place Where we are Right”, etc...

This month finds us on the precipice of our 2020 presidential election and the anniversary of Kristallnacht, November 9, 1938 – Kristallnacht, that is so very personal and yet affected the fate of millions. I know I am hardly alone in the fears and Angst of our present day pandemic and divisiveness in our land. For months, we have been consumed with uncertainty and while we will continue to live with whatever the results of the final vote, the Coronavirus is far from over. In addition to frustration and fear, anger is a common and natural feeling, but Ma la'asot?! what do we do with it?!

Rabbi Abraham Joshua Heschel taught that “Anger is something that comes dangerously close to evil, yet it is wrong to identify it with evil...Like fire, it may be a blessing as well as a fatal thing – reprehensible when associated with malice, morally necessary as resistance to malice...Anger may touch off deadly explosives, while the complete absence of anger stultifies moral sensibility.”

The English poet, David Whyte, has written that “anger is the deepest form of compassion, for another, for the world, for the self, for a life, for the body, for a family and for all our ideals, all vulnerable and all, possibly about to be hurt.”

Allow me to share two pieces of uplifting and beautifully thought-provoking poetry; one by Israeli's most celebrated poet, Yehuda Amichai and the second by American Jewish activist poet, Marge Piercy.

The Place Where We Are Right by Yehuda Amichai

From the place where we are right
Flowers will never grow
In the spring.

The place where we are right
Is hard and trampled
Like a yard.

But doubts and loves
Dig up the world
Like a mole, a plow.
And a whisper will be heard in the place
Where the ruined
House once stood.

A Just Anger by Marge Piercy

Anger shines through me.
Anger shines through me.
I am a burning bush.
My rage is a cloud of flame.
My rage is a cloud of flame
in which I walk
seeking justice
like a precipice.
How the streets
of the iron city
flicker, flicker,
and the dirty air
fumes.
Anger storms
between me and things,
transfiguring,
transfiguring.
A good anger acted upon
is beautiful as lightning
and swift with power.
A good anger swallowed,
a good anger swallowed
clots the blood
to slime.

May our emotions be tempered and the confluence of our voices join in harmonic discourse and song when we conclude this November month in gratitude and Thanksgiving !

Treasurer's Report

Shalom!
Attached is the revised Annual Budget Report. It was brought to my attention that the report did not look correct. After reviewing the report I noted that I had a formula error. The operating account did have a loss last year, but the loss was $152,240.

I apologize for any confusion you may have had and am available to answer any questions you may have. Please contact me at kathy.rosenfeld@gmail.com or 704-756-7427.

Have a healthy and happy Thanksgiving!

Less: MRF Contributions	$ (15,927)
Less: Building Funds	$ (19,962)
Plus: Interest on Mortgage	$ 53,554
Operating Fund Net Income	$ 853,277	$ (15,693)
		$ (155,240)

Notes:

- A This represents dues that congregants pledged but did not pay for fiscal year 2019/2020.
- C Due to Covid-19, the building was unavailable for rent during February - March. Budgeted revenue from this line item was unavailable. In several instances CEE refunded deposits.
- D No fundraisers were held during fiscal year 2019/2020 due to a lack of volunteers to lead the fundraisers and due to Covid-19.
- E CEE was blessed to have had a large bequest in fiscal year 2019/2020. The funds were not used for operating purposes but rather to decrease the mortgage debt and to be used for future improvements to the facilities for child and adult education purposes.
- F MRF - Mortgage Reduction Fund - this represents contributions collected from congregants during fiscal year 2019/2020 to reduce the mortgage debt.
- G Represents improvements, repairs and maintenance on our building. Improvements included additional security measures not covered by donations and grants.

- H The insurance premiums remained the same as prior year and thus were less than budgeted.
- I Increase costs due to additional programming for religious school participants, new books, and curriculum changes for some classrooms.
- J Increase in costs due to hiring outside performers for our Shabbat services and community holiday events such as the Chanukah Dinner.
- K Due to Covid-19, Community Programs in the second portion of the fiscal year were cancelled.
- L Due to Covid-19, Senior Programs in the second portion of the fiscal year were cancelled.
- M Due to no fundraisers being held in fiscal year 2019/2020, there were no corresponding fundraising expenses.
- N This represents the interest on the mortgage debt. It is not an operating expense and is paid with mortgage relief contributions.
- O The net income for the Operating Fund was actually a loss of $155,240. Our bills were covered for 2019/2020 due to the following:
 1. A $48,000 Payroll Protection Payment grant from Banner Bank. We anticipate that this will be forgiven with only an interest expense to the congregation.
 2. The use of the $125,000 Line of Credit. In March and April the line was fully extended to meet the congregation's expenses. As dues for the 2020/2021 fiscal year were collected the Line of Credit was reduced to zero.

Mental Health Awareness in Action

Not very long ago we experienced our Days of Awe. We don't know how many of us actually felt awe, but we're hoping there were many. Awe is good for us.

The September issue of the Mayo Clinic Health Letter devoted a few paragraphs to "The Power of Awe." Its benefits include lowering stress levels, reducing inflammation, improving heart rate and diastolic blood pressure. Good for body and mind, especially if indulged in regularly.

So how to we find it? Watching a sunset, listening to or making beautiful music, looking at art or creating it, reading and collecting inspiring quotes. And more – meditation, prayer, yoga and t'ai chi can evoke awe in us. Important life events like births, weddings, b'nei mitzvah all cause us to feel awe. And so do noticing hummingbirds sipping flowers, sunlight filtering through tree leaves, the moon rising. Another way to fill our lives with awe is to keep an awe journal, and read it when we're feeling anxious or distressed. And to collect gorgeous or amazing photos.

We use the word "awesome" a lot these days, but the actual experience of awe is to be cherished and cultivated. And there are many ways to allow awe into our daily lives. Awe is never boring, and we can never have too much.

Temple Board of Directors Meeting

Board of Directors Meeting
Thursday, November 19, 7:00pm, via Zoom
All are welcome

Contact Sisterhood President Karyn
Lehmann for Sisterhood meetings.

From Our Director of Education & Youth

The High Holidays have passed and in two months (that will go by quickly) Hanukkah will be here.

We have begun to read the Torah again from Genesis, BERESHIT. Some things begin again, some ended, and some are new. That's the circle of life, sometimes it's happy, sometimes sad but life goes on and we have to look forward while learning from the past.

At SJL we are back to our regular zoom classes, that include music with Rick and Addie Lupert, Hebrew and Judaica studies. I am very proud of the teachers for doing a great job teaching and students for being engaged.

We began our Toddler time meetings which take place once a month on Sunday mornings. Toddler time is for children up to 5 years old. If you have a toddler in your family and would like to join a fun, interactive meeting with holidays and Jewish related activities, please contact me.

This month grandparents are invited to join us, on November 15th at 10:45 am on zoom. Bring your grandkids and grandparents from near or far, thanks to technology we can all meet on zoom.

We are also restarting our youth group meetings with fun, learning and social justice activities. We will have two age groups for middle school and high school. We would love to see your teens!

If you have some talent or you are passionate about something you want to teach, let us know.

To happy and successful beginnings!,

Marcela Lavi

Sisterhood Speaks

In Sisterhood,

Fall has finally landed in So Cal!

As we prepare for the shorter days and cooler weather, we set our sights on Thanksgiving. Like everything so far in 2020 this too will look different.

Our tables may be smaller, but our hearts are preparing to say goodbye to all that is 2020, and for me that is hopeful!

Sisterhood is expanding our programming offerings, please check this bulletin for announcements. There is something for everyone!

Don't forget to turn your clocks back and your thoughts forward.

Hanukkah Trivia Night - Looking for Donations

Sisterhood is sponsoring a Hanukkah Trivia Game one night of Chanukah. We will be giving away prizes, and would appreciate donations. Will you bake a batch of cookies, make a special dinner entree, have a handicraft or any other item you can think of that we can give away in a COVID safe manner. We will need to hear from you by December 6th. Contact Leslie Soltz at lhsoltz@gmail.com or 714-813-1792 to donate or for more information.

Hanukkah Honey

Chanukah is coming soon and we are inviting you to become a Chanukah Honey. If you participate, you will randomly be given the name and address of another participating congregant. They won't know who you are. Starting December 1 and up until the end of Chanukah, mail your "Honey" a few cards, notes or poems. These are just a few ideas. Be creative and don't reveal yourself until you send your "Honey" your last greeting. Please send your name to Sisterhood at CEE, 1495 Ford Street, Redlands or email lhsoltz@gmail.com, margiehenk@aol.com or smithcenter6@gmail.com by November 18, 2020. This will be lots of fun.
