Cantorial Comments

Happy January 2023! - While not as solemn or introspective as our High Holy Day season, it is another opportunity to center ourselves, to refresh our calendars, our relationships, and our focus for the things that truly matter in our lives, even as we are learning to live with Covid-related viruses and their aftermath.

Despite the many bumps in the road, Congregation Emanu El continues to provide for young and old - with a minyan of ten amazing children in our SJL and great entertainment at our Senior Luncheons. Upcoming social events include a Mahjongg Tournament and Casino Night.

I want to encourage you to feed your spiritual and intellectual needs as well. How will you expand your Jewish learning this year?? This month, we are excited to be offering a series of three classes with the well-known and beloved Rabbi Richard Address, who will teach on the great Torah scholar, philosopher, astronomer and physician, Maimonides [Rambam]. At the end of the month, thanks to the support of the Leone Hyman Brit Olam Memorial Fund, we will be signing on to an enlightening zoom discussion "The Imam and the Rabbi" - The Elephant in the Room - with Rabbi Jeffrey Salkin and Imam Abdullah Antepli - no topic is too taboo for them!

Our spring concert series will feature the Belvedere Trio in March and Spinet-sponsored Musica Viva ensembles in May. Jerry Ripley and I [plus others] will conclude the series with a special program of Sephardic music in June.

On Saturday, January 21st we will welcome our new and returning families at Shabbat morning services. Jump on the welcoming bandwagon, participate with an aliyah and celebrate Shabbat with a Torah service and delicious Kiddush luncheon! Our February Shabbat morning service will serve as a teaching tour through the liturgy.

Let us take inspiration from the words of Rabbi Lord Jonathan Sacks z.l.:
"Throughout the centuries, when the vast majority of Europe was illiterate, Jews maintained an educational infrastructure as their highest priority. It is no exaggeration to say that this lay at the heart of the Jewish ability to survive catastrophe, negotiate change and flourish in difficult circumstances."

Wishing everyone a healthy, fulfilling and peaceful 2023,

Cantor Jennifer Bern-Vogel

Welcome to our New Members

at

Morning Shabbat Services - Saturday, January 21st at 10:00 a.m.

We will be honoring our new members at a special Shabbat service followed by a delicious Kiddush luncheon sponsored by our Sisterhood.

We have had many new members and families join over the past several years.
We are now finally able to say "Welcome" in person!

All members are invited to join us as we share a special service and delightful kiddush luncheon together to welcome our newest Emanu El members.

Presidential Perspectives

I hope you had a joyous Chanukah and your New Year's celebration was full of fun and anticipation of the coming year.

The new year brings some additional joy for our Congregation. Sisterhood will, once again, bring us Casino Night. Check your bulletin and mailings for the date and time.

Cantor Bern-Vogel and Jerry Ripley work hard to provide a meaningful Shabbat service with the music we love. The choir joins us once a month as well. I hope you will make our Friday and Saturday services a few times each month. It is a great way to spend time with friends as well as enriching your spirit.

Your Board of Directors is bringing back various committees to help move us forward. Planning, Finance/Fund-raising, Clergy, and Membership committees will meet the first Tuesday of each month at 6 pm. We are looking for interested congregants to join these groups as we try to shape our future. Don't be surprised if you are asked to join one of these committees or you can just volunteer by emailing me or letting the office know you would like to participate.

I hope the new secular year brings you health and good fortune.

B'Shalom,

Paul Zipperstein

Treasurer's Report

Happy 2023! The new year is starting off with lots of activity. You'll see throughout the bulletin the wonderful services, programs and activities planned by our Cantor and our terrific Sisterhood. Please come and be part of the Emanu El family! Our members are important to us; together we support our synagogue both financially and spiritually.

As your CFO, I take my responsibilities seriously to carefully watch the finances of our temple, both income and expenses. Dues, donations and fundraisers are the main sources of revenue, with member's dues being critically important. I encourage all members to pay their fair share. We are always seeking new members. If you know of Jewish families in the community who are not temple members invite them to join you at services or a brunch. Gaining new members is vital to increasing our financial stability.

As always, I am available for any questions you may have regarding temple finances, scrip program, or about dues; please contact me at 951-317-2003 or jbstrain1130@gmail.com.

I look forward to seeing you in January!

Mental Health Awareness in Action “Facing Suicide” 1

Courage to Ask the Question

The prospect of someone we love dying by suicide carries a special terror. Their dying by some accident is horrible enough, but that clearly would be out of our control, and probably out of their control, too. But suicide? Someone in dark despair decides to end their life. And if they are skillful enough, it may be done.

And don't we all know people in our lives who have experienced depression and sometimes felt hopeless? The professionals have been telling us that asking the all-important question can be the key to getting help for them before they make any attempt. Yet the question – Have you been thinking about suicide? Do you have thoughts of taking your own life? – is downright scary. We don't want to suggest anything drastic like that. We are panicked at the thought of even allowing that possibility to enter our minds. It is just too hard to face.

And yet, it is the all-important question. It is the essential door towards help and change for someone who feels hopeless, unworthy, alone, and in pain. The honest response of the person you ask is already a breath of fresh air coming through the door. And some essential conversation may come in its wake, and your own instincts will help you know what to do next.

You might ask if they have spoken with anyone else about this. Or ‘Have you sought help?’ Or ‘Can I come over and we can talk more about this?’ Or you might rush over to them without asking, or call 911. Or persuade them to call the new national lifeline, 988. There are many ways to save a life.

It all begins with the question, ‘Are you thinking of ending your life?’ or ‘Have you been thinking that life isn't worth living?’ or ‘Do you want to die?’ And where do we get the courage to ask it? From knowing that it works most of the time. The door opens, the fresh air enters, the darkest of moods pass, and we are there to help and support and love.

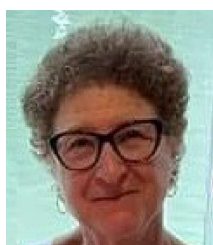

In September PBS aired a wonderful program called “Facing Suicide,” full of stories and advice and science and love. We'll hear more from it in the coming months.

But here's one quote from a young Montana Native American who came close to trying to die by his own hand: “Today might be hard, but tomorrow is a new day.” A new day, a new year, a new life. Please ask the all-important question if you are worried.

Sisterhood Speaks

I hope everyone had an enjoyable Hanukkah and a great New Year. Thank you to Ilene Mino and Cantor Jennifer Bern Vogel for putting on a fun Hanukkah Party for the School for Jewish Living, their families and others. It was a pleasure to arrange the brunch for the party.

Sisterhood is making plans for a busy January and February. We hope you will plan to attend all or some of our events. January will begin with a board meeting on January 8 to which all interested parties are invited. On January 9, the book club will meet at 7 pm via Zoom to discuss Never Meant to Meet You by Frank and Youmans. There is still time to read if you are interested in joining us that evening. We are making plans for our annual Paid Up Members Brunch on Sunday morning, January 22 at 10 am. The brunch promises to be delightful, with catered salads and musical entertainment by Lee and Michael Stone of Tin Man's Heart. The brunch is complementary for all members, but if you pay your dues on that day, you may attend at no charge. We are also planning a Chili Cook Off and Family Game Day for Sunday, January 29. Constant Contact will have more details as the day approaches. Everyone is invited to join us on Tuesday evening, January 31 for Sister's Night Out - movie and dinner. We'll be attending the Look Theater's $5 Tuesday show. Contact me or Barbara Smith to get the final time and meeting place. You can call or email now to express interest, and we'll get back to you when we know what time and film. The Super Bowl Pool will be returning in January. Twenty-five dollars will buy you a square and a chance to win $500.

February will see the return of the popular Sisterhood Casino Night on February 4. Invitations will be going out soon - save the date! We also are planning to revive our famous Mahjongg Tournament on Monday, February 20. Women have come from San Diego, Orange County and Palm Springs to play here for cash and other prizes. We are renowned for the lavish lunch we provide. Sisterhood will lead Shabbat Services on Friday, February 24. There are still unfilled Oneg Shabbats in February, March, April and May. If you have a simcha you'd like to mark by hosting an Oneg Shabbat on Friday night, let me know.

I am looking forward to a 2023 full of joy and fun for all,

Kol tuv,

Leslie Soltz Interim President, Sisterhood

From Our Coordinator of School for Jewish Living

In December our SJL students learned about the history of Hanukkah, how to celebrate, and our practice of candle-lighting and blessings. Students shared their Menorahs and the family history of how they received them. We sang Hanukkah songs, listened to Hanukkah music, read a variety of Hanukkah stories and discussed how each added to our culture. We also became pretty accomplished at the Hora and students were proud when they were able to dance with Cantor Jen. Many students were able to attend & celebrate with the congregation at the Hanukkah Fair.

In January we will begin to learn about Bikkur Cholim (visiting the ill) and Ometz Lev (courage) as Jewish values. We will do this through literature, discussion, art, and thinking about ways we can help those who are sick. I hope together we can do a mitzvah and understand that simple actions like visiting, calling, or sending a card to someone who is ailing can have an impact which supports and enhances communities and individuals.

We return to SJL on January 8th. New students are always welcome. Just call the temple office. We look forward to building our community.

Rabbi Cohn to deliver sermon on "Jew of the Year for 2022"

On Friday night, January 6th, Rabbi Emeritus Hillel Cohn will deliver the sermon at our Erev Shabbat service. He will speak on "Jew of the Year for 2022." In 1974 Rabbi Cohn began the custom of devoting the first sermon of the new secular year to announcing his choice of a "Jew of the year" for the secular year just ended. He continued that practice over the years in our congregation as well as the two congregations that he served after retiring as our rabbi in 2001 (Adat Ari El in Las Vegas and Sun City Jewish Services in Palm Desert). We look forward to learning whom Rabbi Cohn has selected as the "Jew of the Year for 2022".
