Cantorial Comments

This is the month that we celebrate Shabbat Shirah – the Shabbat in Song – in connection with Parashat B'shalach which contains the 'Song of the Sea' in Exodus 15. When you look inside the scroll, you see a completely different layout compared to the usual columns of text. Some suggest they resemble the bricks the Israelite slaves were forced to build under Egyptian rule. I am always reminded of the waves of the sea. For Cantors, synagogue musicians and choirs, this is always one of highlights of the calendar year. Our beloved Jerry Ripley, of blessed memory, who died unexpectedly on January 11, and I had enjoyed planning special music together for this occasion for the past thirteen years. What a significant season for Jerry's passing to the heavenly hosts.

This is the section of the Torah that includes the Mi Chamocha prayer. Can you find it? We are reminded in a rabbinic midrash or interpretation that when Egyptian hosts were drowning in the Red Sea, and 'the angels in heaven were about to break forth into songs of jubilation, the Holy One, blessed be He, silenced them with the words, "My creatures are perishing, and you are ready to sing!" Their deaths marred the completeness of Israel's victory.

While Jerry would insist that we sing and rejoice with all of our hearts - we will - while at the same time knowing that his passing forever mars the fullness of our celebration. Zichrono Liv'racha. Your gentle soul will forever be a blessing.

Presidential Perspectives

Joy and sadness are frequent companions on life's road. We are fortunate to have many simchas in the Temple as we celebrate wedding anniversaries, b'nai mitzvah, and other happy life cycle events. Unfortunately, January has not been kind. Our friend and long-time music and choir director, Jerry Ripley, suddenly passed away. His 40 year presence will be missed in so many ways. Congregation Emanu El will conduct a service for Jerry on Sunday, February 12 at 2 pm in the sanctuary. All are welcome to attend as we share our sadness with not only our community but also the wider religious community that Jerry was a part of. If this wasn't enough, we mourn, with our brothers and sisters of the Asian American/Pacific Islander communities who are devastated by the loss of many loved ones to senseless violence. Zichronam Livrachra , may all of their lives be for a blessing.

Hopefully, the new month will bring happier times. Please join us for Shabbat services on Friday evenings. They begin at 6:30 pm. We have engaged Jiggs Gallagher, a local musician with religious ties to both the Christian and Jewish worlds, to handle music and choir duties. Jiggs comes highly recommended and is known by several members of the congregation.

February will also include the following special events: Casino Night on 2/4, Tu B'Shevat seder on 2/5, Mahjongg Tournament on 2/20, and Sisterhood led Shabbat service on 2/24. Please try to join us for as many of these events as you can. Let's Congregate!!

B'Shalom,

Paul Zipperstein

Treasurer's Report

February may be a short month, but we have a lot of activities and events at Congregation Emanu El; there is something for everyone! There will be games, Shabbat services, entertainment, learning opportunities and more!

Just as there are many activities happening at the congregation you can see and participate in, your Board is working hard "behind the scenes" to continue to provide programs for our members. A considerable amount of planning, budgeting and volunteer labor is needed to make things happen here at CEE!

I will soon be working with our budget committee to "crunch the numbers" and begin planning for our next fiscal year. Our financial situation is always a top concern of mine. I continue to monitor our expenses and encourage our members to review their dues pledge and pay their fair share.

Our membership committee, chaired by Leslie Soltz, will be working on reaching out and seeking new members. Gaining new members is vital to increasing our financial stability.

Please, I encourage you to reach out to me if you any questions regarding temple finances, scrip program, or about dues; please contact me at 951-317-2003 or jbstrain1130@gmail.com.

Mental Health Awareness in Action
“Facing Suicide” 2

We don’t know what is happening to cause a frightening increase in suicide in our country. And it’s not only here. For example, many American farmers are dying by suicide. So are many farmers in India. In recent years the U.K. has created a new position called the Minister of Loneliness. And the entire country of Denmark has made psychiatric care free to all citizens, strictly controlled fire arms, and created programs and outreach to help people get the care they need.

We look at American demographics. We have a big increase since 1999. Most successful suicides are among white, middle-aged or older men. This is also true among Native Americans, youth, LGBTQ youth, and those whose families have a history of suicide.

Dr. Thomas Joiner says in the PBS program “Facing Suicide” that there are 3 things that can combine to push a person to suicide:

1. Perceived burdensomeness
2. Thwarted belongingness
3. And critically, the means to do it

In a depressed state someone may think everyone in their lives will be better off without them. This is almost never the reality, but it is a kind of despairing, tunnel vision perception. Someone may feel rejected or ostracized by family or friends. That lonely feeling leads to more withdrawal, which makes the feeling worse. The best reaction if someone close to you is feeling that way is to connect with them, ask if they are thinking of ending their lives, and talk about it.

And, as you might guess, the availability of firearms in our country is often the third truly deadly element in this troika. Twice as many firearms kill people by suicide than by homicide. Our gun population is much larger than our human population. Action No. 1 might be to lock up, or temporarily give a gun to a good friend, with ammunition removed, locked up, and put elsewhere.

And if you are thinking of ending your life, connecting to someone who can help – a friend, a family member – or calling 988, the national lifeline, can halt the impulse to kill yourself and start the process toward healing. So, if you, or someone close to you, stops laughing, can’t find pleasure in usually pleasurable things, feels useless, lonely, and isolated, the remedy is to reach out, to connect with others, to do the heart talking. To call 988.

Let’s all be there for each other. Let’s breathe deeply and step back from the darkest hole, and call each other, meet with each other, and talk. Spring is around the corner.
