Cantorial Comments

And just like that – it's August and it's time to 'return' as the High Holy Days are nearly upon us! How do YOU prepare for Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur? Is it about the menus? Trying out new recipes? The guest list? A brand-new outfit for services? What does it mean to you to 'return'? What about the spiritual connections?

As you know, clergy, choir and staff need a good amount of time to prepare. Even though we do this every year, we are always fine-tuning; the logistics, the information that goes out, sermons and of course, the music. We might choose to do a different arrangement for the same prayer or highlight a special part of the liturgy from the Machzor [the High Holy Day prayerbook]. During COVID, we had tremendous challenges with technology, trying to create the best virtual experiences we could. Now, we are back in the synagogue and while the variants are still around, we look forward to carefully seeing one another again in person!

We began our music rehearsals in June with Dr. Lois Musmann leading our High Holy Day choir with at least four additional singers from her chorus, Musica Viva, who will be joining us this year; for that we are most grateful.

The spiritual month of ELUL that prepares us for Rosh Hashanah begins on Friday, August 18 [1 TISHRI]. Prior to services, I will be holding an ORIENTATION meeting for any and all prospective conversion students at 5:30 pm. Regular classes will commence following the High Holy Days.

In the spirit of ELUL – an acrostic for Ani Dodi V'dodi Li – I am my beloved's and my beloved is mine – may we enter this season of spiritual reconnection with God, with one another and our own souls, and with renewed strength and blessings,

Cantor Jennifer Bern-Vogel

much appreciate your time and commitment to our congregation.

Presidential Perspectives

We live in troubled times. Social media puts us in touch with things happening all over the world and it puts a big spotlight on our country as many look to America for its leadership. As we drill down to local issues, we come to the issue of the homeless. It is a problem that many are working on but few have solutions. I was in San Diego recently and noted, in several locations, large camps of homeless similar to what I have seen in Los Angeles, San Bernardino, and Redlands. While I don't have a solution, I can say that this issue has now affected our Home of Eternity Cemetery and Mausoleum located in San Bernardino. Our mausoleum has been significantly damaged by vandals whose intent was to steal the bronze name plates from the crypts and niches as well as any that may be on headstones in the cemetery.

While no crypt contents were disturbed, there was some disturbance to cremated remains that we are dealing with at this time. The damage to the mausoleum is about $200,000. It is staggering to me that anyone could do something like this to get the two dollars that a name plate would bring at a metal yard. The Home of Eternity Board of Managers, with the assistance of Rabbi Emeritus Hillel Cohn, is working with San Bernardino city officials, police, and others to determine what can be done to resolve this tragedy. We have engaged private security, at significant cost, to prevent further damage. You may see requests for donations and we hope you will be as generous as you can. We expect to be reimbursed, to some degree, by insurance but it will not cover all costs to repair. The name of our Congregation is Emanu El which means 'G_D is with us'. I pray that G_D continues to be with us and guides us through these difficult times.

B'Shalom,

Paul Zipperstein

Treasurer's Report

September is right around the corner; we will soon be celebrating the High Holy Days and welcoming our students back to the School for Jewish Living.

Parents will be receiving registration information the first week of August.. Ilene Mino and Karyn Lehmann, our SJL teachers, have been making plans for the upcoming school year, including a "Jump Start" Open House on September 10th.

The Board of Directors has approved returning to the previous practice of issuing tickets for High Holy Days to all members in good standing, meaning all dues and fees have been paid and there are no outstanding balances as of June 30, 2023. If you have an outstanding balance on your account you must make arrangements to pay your balance before High Holy Day tickets can be issued. I am available to discuss any arrangements necessary to assist you.

As always, I encourage any member to reach out to me to discuss any concerns they may have regarding their dues obligations. We NEVER deny membership based on dues. If you have any questions, contact me at 951-317-2003 or jbstrain1130@gmail.com.

Sisterhood Speaks

Summer is in full swing and I hope that everyone is staying cool and enjoying the long days. I would like to start by thanking Leslie Soltz for stepping in as acting Sisterhood President when Kimberly moved away. Leslie has always been there to support Sisterhood, and as her 3rd round at the presidency comes to a close, I offer my sincere thanks.

Sisterhood has been working hard to fill out our Board of Directors, and would love to have some new faces join us! If you are interested in being a part of the lifeblood of our congregation, please feel free to contact anyone of us in Sisterhood leadership. I am certain that we can put your skills to use!

Keep your eyes open for your membership packet arriving this summer as well as an invitation to participate in Honey Greetings! Yes! Elul is right around the corner, followed by S'lichot, Rosh Hashanah, Yom Kippur, Sukkot and the start of SJL!

Sisterhood will be sponsoring a bagel schmooze on September 10th in conjunction with the jump start of SJL.

This year SJL will include the little ones! K'tanim (pre-school) will be offered this year 1 or 2 times a month. If you have little ones or know of someone with little ones that would like to be a part of this make sure they come on September 10 to assess parent needs and participation. I look forward to getting back in the classroom after so many years.

For the High Holidays this year, if you would like to sponsor the flowers for either or both HHDs please let the office know. This is a great Mitzvah and honor.

As always, Sisterhood will be hosting break the fast after Yom Kippur.

Oneg hosting opportunities are always available and are a lovely way to honor a milestone or loved one. Contact Sisterhood if you would like to host.

This year will have more Sisterhood Shabbats! We are excited to lead our tribe in celebration and learning.

I would be remiss not to note the great loss that Sisterhood, and the community, suffered with the passing of our sister and friend Paula Kaye. She leaves a big hole in our hearts and on our Sisterhood board, but she has left her successor with a clearly marked, and color coded path. May her memory be a blessing.

Sisterhood board meetings are noted in the Temple calendar, and all are welcome! If you would like to be included in updates on sisterhood happenings make sure to reach out to be put on the mailing lists.

In Sisterhood,
Karyn
Sisterhood President

Mental Health Awareness in Action

Lima Hospital for the Criminally Insane

Many of us have heard about so-called mental hospitals for people who have committed serious crimes and were deemed incapable of standing trial. There are stories about the brutal, cruel treatment that was doled out to the inmates. Too many of those nightmarish stories were true.

The Lima Hospital for the Criminally Insane in Ohio was one of those places of horror. It opened in 1915 and closed in 2004. Most of those years there were no redeeming features of life; there was no actual treatment for mental illness.

Then one day in the 1970's a social worker decided to try something that might help the inmates. He couldn't control the guards and their behavior toward the inmates, but he himself loved animals and thought animals brought out good things in people. He had an idea to bring animals into the hospital. What he saw amazed him and amazed others.

The idea first came to him when visiting one of the wards – the inmates didn't have private cells or rooms. He noticed one of the men taking out a shoebox from under his bed. There was a cockroach inside, and what surprised him was the man was taking care of it. He claimed it was "my best friend." Months later he saw inmates sneaking bread from the eating hall and taking it back to their ward – they were feeding an injured sparrow. They were cooperating with each other, instead of being hostile and avoiding each other, as was usual.

Somehow the social worker persuaded the authorities to let him bring in some parakeets in cages and some fish in an aquarium. Before too long, the birds were hanging out on the men's shoulders. Even the fish were swimming up to their fingers at the surface of the water. The men took care of the creatures; they conferred with each other about who would do what and when. Everything seemed to open up; the usual gloom lifted. One of the former guards said "Depressed, almost catatonic people at Lima suddenly were awake." Suddenly, they felt that something, someone, was trusting them.

In one case, a man who never uttered a word before but was allowed to keep a bird in his room saw the social worker passing by and said out loud, "Birdseed." This was his first word uttered in many years.

Success breeds more success. Soon there were chinchillas, rabbits, guinea pigs, cats, deer, goats, ducks, and more, hundreds of them. Among the men, violence lessened, and communication increased. The guards' behavior softened. The whole atmosphere changed. This transformation was described by Dr. Aysha Akhtar in her book, Our Symphony with Animals.

Around the country other institutions like prisons started animal programs. There is something still being explored about the human/non-human relationship that seems important, maybe even critical, to our mental and social well-being.
