Cantorial Comments

Gifts of Music! Gifts of Life

V'asu li Mikdash [...bring Me gifts...and let them make me a sanctuary...]

Exodus 25:2,8

Our celebration of Shabbat in Song came 'early' this year; normally the Torah portion 'Beshalach' falls in February. I am pleased to announce that we have another special music Shabbat this month on February 16th - Shabbat Terumah, from which our prayer book, Mishkan Tefilah, takes its name. Shabbat services on February 9th will have a guest speaker, Rachel Shapira from SHARSHERET, speaking about Breast and Ovarian Cancer.

I am looking forward to sharing the bima with my colleague and friend, Cantor Jan Mahler, from Chicago, Illinois. We have been Torah study partners since we met through the Institute of Jewish Spirituality in 2006. Cantor Jan Mahler is a Board Certified Chaplain, now retired. She previously served the community in Chicago, Illinois at Rush University Medical Center as the Jewish Chaplain for many years. Cantor Mahler received a Bachelor of Music degree from the University of Wisconsin and was ordained as a cantor from the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion (HUC-JIR) located in New York. In 2008 she received an Honorary Doctorate from HUC-JIR after having served the Jewish community and congregations in the Chicago area, New York, and Albuquerque for 40+ years. She is a member of the American Conference of Cantors (ACC), the Reform Cantors of Chicago (RCC), Midwest Jewish Chaplains, and the Association of Professional Chaplains (APC).

We are so proud of our young violinist, Aleah Lang, daughter of University of Redlands Professor Sharon Lang. Aleah writes: "I am fourteen years old and a freshman at Redlands East Valley High School and play violin with the Chamber Orchestra under Mr. Brian Holliet. Last year I played with Symphonie Jeunesse under Ms. Michele Tacchia. For years, I have been studying with Ms. Laura Evans, a third generation violinist who plays with the Pacific Symphony."

Special events coming up:

Purim Megillah Reading & Shpiel - Saturday night, March 23rd

Presidential Perspectives

We had a busy January that included a wonderful tribute concert for Jerry Ripley. Thanks go out to Cantor Bern-Vogel and Dr. Lois Musmann for coordinating the concert and choir. The choir included the members of the CEE

Choir along with several members of the Musica Viva choir, who also participated in last year's High Holy Days. Cantor also led our Tu B'shevat Seder celebrating the trees and fruits that help sustain us. We listened to Reserve Lt. Col. Amit Grinfeld discuss the Israel/Palestine issues. We had over 60 people from the congregation and community attend the presentation.

February is Super Bowl month. It also includes the annual Rabbi Norman F. Feldheim Lecture. This year it will be on February 7th at 7:30 pm with guest lecturer Karen Golden. One of Rabbi Feldheim's interests was in Jewish Folklore. Ms. Golden will speak on stories of Jewish Women with words and music. Please plan on attending.

Shabbat services are always meaningful both with the words of our prayers and the beauty of the music. I hope you will join us each Friday evening as we worship together at Congregation Emanu El.

B'Shalom

Treasurer's Report

Happy February! While this is a little shorter month (even with Leap Year) we have a packed schedule! We will have a Guest Speaker at Shabbat services on February 9th. Rachel Shapira is a genetic counselor from Sharsheret, and will be here as part of their Pink

Day for breast cancer awareness. Sharsheret, a national non-profit organization, improves the lives of Jewish women and families living with or at increased genetic risk for breast or ovarian cancer through personalized support and saves lives through educational outreach.

We have the Rabbi Norman F. Feldheim Memorial Lecture in the evening on February 7th. We will be hosting Sisterhood's annual Mah Jongg tournament with over 60 players from all over Southern California attending. It is THE most popular tournament because our Sisterhood ladies serve delicious food, gives a lot of great prizes and offers a lot of fun for all! Our Seniors for Seniors Luncheon will be on February 21st. Come and enjoy a great lunch and play Bingo! Jay Donenfeld will be the bingo caller and there will be prizes!

Shabbat Services on February 16th will be a very musical shabbat; Cantor Bern-Vogel has invited one of her friends, Cantor Jan Mahler, to share the bima that evening. Aleah Lang, an extremely talented young violinist, will also be providing music at this special Shabbat service.

Rabbi Hillel Cohn will be leading Shabbat services on February 23rd; he is conducting an experimental service using a prayer book he has created.

On a financial note, we are doing well. I continue to monitor our expenses and look for ways to save where possible.

From Our School for Jewish Living

In January, we celebrated Tu B'Shevat by planting parsley, reading books about appreciating trees and our environment, and of course learning the special blessings that go with the Tu B'Shevat seder. Our collection of art projects turned into an art exhibit, with a showing at the seder. K'tanim is now attending weekly and enjoying storytime, music, art, and fun with friends. Thank you to all the members and parents who made our morning seder a success; along with a very special thank you to Cantor Jen. We also discussed the Jewish value of bal tashchit. Bal tashchit is the mitzvah encouraging us "not to destroy things needlessly" and to think about how we affect the world around us.

In February we will enjoy the fun historical traditions of our heritage through folk tales which have been shared for generations. Do you remember the people of Chelm? They will help us continue to learn about asking good questions.

Shalom aleichem,

Miss Ilene and Miss Karyn

Sisterhood Speaks

First and foremost, there is a Sisterhood board meeting on Sunday, February 4th at 12:15 p.m. This new time is to accommodate the SJL teachers. PLEASE join us!

We are coming into a new year with less and less people to do the heavy lifting, so we would definitely encourage you to join us! You may notice that we are not hosting a Casino night this year. If this was an event that you were looking forward to I would encourage you to volunteer to make it happen next year!

The Sisterhood Maj tournament is happening on Monday February 19th. THIS IS NOW SISTERHOOD'S BIGGEST FUNDRAISER! We still need door prizes and gifts to reward participants. Please contact anyone in Sisterhood to make arrangements. A HUGE Thank You to Lisa Wise-Wolk, Stacy Knox, Julie Strain, Lori Fenster and Sherri Vines for making this happen!

Shalach Manot (also known as Mishloach Manot) are back! Keep an eye on announcements and your e-mail for details. This is always a lovely tradition. A big THANK YOU to Jill Weissman for stepping up to spearhead this mitzvah!

As always, you are encouraged to:

1. host an oneg
2. donate to the flower fund (or any fund)
3. show up and be present
4. volunteer

As 2024 gets into full swing, I look forward to seeing all your smiling faces at events or services.

Be happy

Be well

B'Shalom

Mental Health Awareness in Action

Rosalynn Carter Mental Health Advocate

Ninety-six years is a long time to live. And some humans have a dedication to helping others that lasts almost as long and hardly seems to diminish over the years. Rosalynn Carter was such a person. She died in her hometown of Plains, Georgia on November 19, 2023.

Her most enduring passion was helping those with mental illness and those who care for them. We don't know what inspired her skillful and effective effort to draw attention to the problem, while going against stigma, while prodding into existence thoughtful and kind government policy, while being personal and caring in all her relations, while insisting that help must be forthcoming. Some of the answers may lie in books she co-authored and some written about her.

But whatever it was, Mrs. Carter worked locally, nationally, and internationally, and in multiple various ways. She started in Georgia in 1971. When she went to the White House, she became honorary chair of the President's Commission on Mental Health, and soon a comprehensive Mental Health Systems Act passed (repealed by the Reagan administration). Back in Georgia she focused on her state and the nation as the Carter Center hosted and funded programs, fellowships, and annual symposia on mental health. She even thought of promoting mental health issues in the media with the Rosalynn Carter Fellowships for Mental Health Journalism starting in 1996. She won national and World Health Organization awards. She wrote books, especially about caregiving. She thought about every aspect of the difficulties of mental illness for those living with it and for their family and friends. Here's a short list of her symposium topics:

- Mental illness and the elderly
- Child and adolescent mental illnesses
- Family coping
- Financing mental health services and research
- Treating mental illness in the primary care setting
- Dealing with stigma

She insisted that we all think carefully and thoroughly about our mental well-being. As individuals and as a society. And never get tired, never grow indifferent, never stop supporting and loving each other.

She went about her business decade after decade. We fear we didn't pay enough attention, didn't appreciate her enough. And we cannot know how much the general decrease in stigma over recent decades had her mark on it. Certainly, she was a major figure in our collective movement away from shame and denial toward acceptance and solutions.

And there is so much more to be done. Even after she is gone, her example is calling on us to do all we can to speak up for ourselves, to care for others, to create an intelligent, kind world. It's 2024. Let's get to it.

Rabbi Norman F. Feldheim Memorial Lecture

The Rabbi Norman F. Feldheim Memorial Lecture was established at the time of Rabbi Feldheim's death (1906-1985) by members of Congregation Emanu El as well as many friends in the wider community. The aim of the lectureship is to focus on areas that were of special interest to Rabbi Feldheim. One of his life-long interests was "Jewish folklore." He would often share stories from Jewish folklore - especially tales of the Hasidic masters - that taught basic Jewish values. Thus, the 37th Annual lecture is "Tales & Scales: Stories of Jewish Wisdom."

A Message from Rabbi Hillel Cohn

In 2022 the book “A God We Can Believe In” (edited by Rabbi Richard Agler and Rabbi Rifat Sonsino) was published. I had been invited to contribute a chapter to that book. The chapter that I wrote, entitled “Reverent Agnosticism: What to Believe and What Not to Believe About God”, is included in the book and I am especially delighted that the book has received many fine reviews and is being widely used around the country by adult education groups.

As a result of the widespread interest in the book, a group of rabbis began to meet a few months ago to begin the process of creating a prayerbook (Siddur) that will reflect a “naturalist” perspective. I have been part of that group since its inception and find the project to be extremely meaningful. As part of the process I have created a complete prayerbook for Erev Shabbat that I have been sharing with my colleagues.

A rather simple explanation of the difference between “naturalism” and “supernaturalism” is:

“A naturalist is someone who believes that everything in the world can be explained by natural causes and laws... Naturalists believe in the scientific method as the best way to understand the world around us. They rely on empirical evidence and observable facts to support their beliefs.”

“A supernaturalist is someone who believes that there are forces or entities that exist beyond the natural world. They believe that supernatural explanations are necessary to understand certain events or phenomena that cannot be explained by natural causes or laws. Supernaturalists often rely on religious or spiritual beliefs to explain the world around them. They may believe in gods, angels, demons, or other supernatural beings. They may also believe in miracles or other events that cannot be explained by science.”

Traditional Jewish prayer or liturgy as well as contemporary liberal Jewish prayer or liturgy has been and continues to be primarily “supernaturalist.”

The prayer book that I have created (experimental, to be sure) maintains the traditional structure but supplements the traditional prayers with reflections that are “naturalist.”

On Friday evening, February 23rd we will use the prayerbook that I have been creating. It is definitely “a work in progress.” Rather than a sermon, there will be an open discussion. I look forward to hearing your responses to this “naturalist Siddur.” Your perspectives will be helpful to me as I continue to work on this project and, more importantly, hopefully, provide you with an alternative to the traditional Siddur that you will find meaningful.
