Looking back and Looking ahead

Five years ago, at this time, we were in the first two months of lockdown during Covid, with many people in confusion, frustration and fear. At that time, Rabbi Reznick and I formed an online bereavement group, assigned readings, and met every month with twelve to fifteen members who were in different stages of mourning, grief and isolation. After about a year and a half, some of the group were able to move on but others chose to remain to check in with one another, sharing moments in their lives of pain, loss and joy, which evolved into 'second Tuesdays' CARE & SHARE at noon.

I believe it has provided a welcoming and intimate space of sharing and fellowship. After this month, CARE & SHARE will take a hiatus until the fall with time to evaluate what our ongoing needs or interests might be. Please contact me with thoughts or ideas if you are interested in being part of a monthly group, be it to study, discuss or simply share ideas on what's happening in your world.

We are looking forward to two special musical events towards the end of month. Every May, for a number of years, thanks to the connection Jerry Ripley (of blessed memory) had with the Spinett organization, we have welcomed a variety of musicians and ensembles to shine in the acoustics of our beautiful sanctuary. On Tuesday, May 20th, at 7:00 p.m., we will welcome the Citrus Valley High School Jazz Band, under the baton of Austin Meiners.

Mark your calendars for Sunday, JUNE 1st at 3:00 p.m., for the youth orchestra, Symphony Jeunesse, under the direction of our beloved and talented friends, Michele and Michael Tacchia. With some surprise musical selections, the concert will help to bring in our celebration of Erev Shavuot to be followed by cheese cake, blintzes and text study!

On the holy festival of Shavuot, You gave us Your holy Torah with great and awesome signs. You were revealed through the voice of thunder, and You appeared to us through the voice of the shofar. You spoke with us face to face, and we heard Your word out of the fire, something that had never been heard or seen in all the earth and was never experienced by any of the nations upon the face of the earth.

Presidential Perspectives

Greetings,

I'm pleased to announce that our long-awaited perimeter fence project is now complete. This project was made possible by a grant awarded to Congregation Emanu El by the State of California, designed to bolster security for synagogues like ours. My thanks to Rabbi Cohn for pairing CEE with the grant writer and fence builder who made this project a reality. For some time now, we have had issues with trespassers coming onto our campus, leaving behind debris that compromised the safety and beauty of our synagogue home. There have also been instances of trespassers setting up tent encampments on our property. This fence, gate and campus-wide camera system will go a long way to solve these on-going issues. Please know that the front entrance gate will be open during regular temple business hours and during any and all temple events and worship services. If you need to access temple property during off hours, please contact the temple office ahead of time. Our private security detail will remain on duty during select events as well.

I'm also pleased to announce that our Rabbinic search committee has identified a potential candidate. Rabbi Jason Rosner has passed the initial screening of our committee and will be coming to our synagogue May 2-4. Rabbi Rosner will lead services on Erev Shabbat on May 2 and lead an adult education program on Saturday, May 3. On May 4, Rabbi will meet with parents and students from SJL as well as members of our Sisterhood. Please make yourself available to come to any and all events that weekend to meet Rabbi Rosner and ask any questions you might have. No final decision will be made until extensive vetting and background checks are conducted. If those hurdles are cleared the congregation will be assembled to issue a final vote.

Finally, on May 15 at 7:00 p.m., we will have our annual congregational meeting. This is the time when our congregants can learn the state of our temple and ask questions of our Board of Director members and clergy. I look forward to seeing all of you there.

Until then, be well,

Greg Weissman

Treasurer's Report

The approved final budget for Fiscal Year 2025/2026 has been approved by the Board of Directors and is published in our Bulletin in preparation for the formal presentation at the Congregational Annual Meeting on May 15th. (Please see the following page).

Thank you to our budget committee: Kathy Rosenfeld and Greg Weissman. I truly appreciate their help in preparing this budget.

Remember that a budget is a guideline, it is our best estimate of what we anticipate to receive in income and what we expect our expenses to be. As always, we do our best to limit our expenses wherever possible, while trying to increase revenues.

Below are a few key points about the Approved Final Budget:

INCOME:

- Dues Income - We were successful in realizing the budgeted dues income for 24-25. The Board has approved a 5% dues increase. Our expenses have increased necessitating this increase.
- High Holy Days - We will continue to charge for non-members attending High Holy Day Services.
- New Rabbi - Funds are available from the Stanley Roshwald trust to fund a full-time Rabbi.

EXPENSES:

- Clergy Costs - Total clergy costs include Cantor's contract and a full-time Rabbi.
- Security - Our security costs have increased due to the need for additional security at all events.
- Utilities and Insurance - Our insurance costs for Liability and Workers Comp has increased. Our water and electric costs have increased.

The Final Budget is not a balanced budget. The Board will be looking at additional funding sources throughout the year. A full budget presentation will be made at our Annual Meeting on May 15th at 7:00 p.m. I look forward to seeing you there!

Mommune 2

On a 2024 BBC program called “It Takes a Village,” Lilla Benn, a young British university student, introduced a word most of us are unfamiliar with, “mommune.” It means a group of single mothers and their children living together, supporting each other in practical terms and emotionally.

Lilla grew up in such an arrangement and thought it was great. Why didn’t more single parents do this? Her curiosity led her to talk with others who had created mommunes and other similar family groups.

She talked with two women with four children between them in Texas. They each had left toxic relationships, one of them having no place to live after she left. Even though they hardly knew each other before, they were drawn together by their similar experiences. And one of them had extra space and invited the other to move in for a while. The ‘little while’ lasted, and after some time they decided to build little neighboring houses with their own hands, learning how on the job. They even would like to keep growing their mommune.

Lilla went to Paris and found an apartment building that is renting exclusively to single parents. The building brings the adults together in cooking, laundry, with play areas for the kids. Ten families are living there, all helping each other and creating a community of support and friendship. But not all the parents are moms. There’s also one dad.

So, Lilla wanted to explore how men were finding co-parenting. Back in London she spoke with two men with two young children, a girl and a boy of the same age. Again the initial rooming together was expected to be temporary, but it just kept going on. One said it brought him “peace of mind” that “not all the responsibility is on your shoulders.” Plus the little ones seem to love the arrangement, and the girl hoped they “would live together forever.”

As recently our former Surgeon General Vivek Murthy stressed, parenting is hard, especially single parenting. We need others to help with the financial side of things, but mostly we need the person who will say, You look really tired. I’ll look after your child while you have a nap. We need someone who shares these difficulties, both practical and emotional. We need companionship and support.

Once upon a time, we all lived with more than two generations in the same home. Grandparents provided active help and love. But in our more isolated society we are creating new ways of living. As one professional said, “Everybody needs a network.” Communal living can be that essential help.

Sisterhood Speaks

A fabulous Community Seder sponsored by Sisterhood and catered by Lorraine Freeman and staff was enjoyed and celebrated by over 50 guests. Many thanks to all our volunteers starting with Gillian Block and Jill Weissman making 40 Matzah balls each for our chicken soup; Karyn and Stephen Lehmann's fabulous charosets (Ashkenazi and Sephardic); and Sheryl Austin Fisher's fabulous potato kugels plus charoset. Many thanks to kitchen helpers Gillian Block, Chel Zipperstein, and Amy Ellison. More thanks to our greeting crew with Bekki Sanders (made name tags), Lisa Wise-Wolk and Barb Smith. Please excuse me if I left anyone out.

Our 2025/2026 Sisterhood Board slate is listed below. We have some new Sisters stepping in to devote their time and energy to our Sisterhood.

Sisterhood Board Members At Large:
Margie Henkin, Jeanne Silberstein, and Jill Weissman

Please join us on May 4th at noon at our General Meeting to vote for our new Board. Lunch will be served with lox and bagels, tuna salad with croissants, broccoli salad, fresh fruit tray and luscious desserts. We will be visited by Rabbi Jason Rosner, our rabbinical candidate, who will be visiting our Temple May 2, 3 and 4th. Your RSVP would be appreciated for food preparations.

At our last Board meeting, we discussed our successful Sh'lach Manot donations for our Purim event. Your donations toward Matanot L'evyonim will be split between Option House in San Bernardino which serves survivors of domestic violence since 1977 and the creation of a Sisterhood President’s Discretionary Fund to assist our local community. Please join us for this important Sisterhood meeting. Thank you.

Today Rabah,
Kathy Trainor, Sisterhood

From Our School for Jewish Living

April ended with enchanting stories, pretty stained-glass art, songs of Passover, and a round of SJL Jeopardy. May brings SJL Eretz Yisrael. The land of Israel, with all its political and social challenges, is central to our Jewish identity and equally important to our history. This month at SJL we will continue to foster a positive relationship with Israel, the land (& the political state), by sharing music, art, and its beautiful geography. The students will sing and celebrate "Am Yisrael Chai", they will see videos of Israelis from many backgrounds singing the same song and being proud of Israel, while creating a collage art map of Israel. We are planning to have a guest speaker from Israel chat with the students about life there. And finally with the study of Israel comes the study of our Shalom. What is our Shalom? Where will this idea and discussion lead? How does it tie to action? These are also questions that will connect us to our next school year. We hope students will link Shalom to stories we have shared, to the Jewish rituals we have practiced, and how our Jewish identity relates peace to love and action in the world.

May this Spring season bring us an abundance of flowers, friendship, love, and joy,
Miss Ilene & Miss Karyn

RACHEL BERKOWITZ

will lead a fascinating Workshop guiding everyone through the creative process of painting... This is an experience you will never forget!!! The work of art that you take home will be a masterpiece!

Rachel Berkowitz is a young, creative, dynamic artist. Her works have been featured in many art shows. In addition to creating artwork herself she teaches others how to draw and paint. In the Workshop she will be leading on January 15th she will guide all attending in how to create a memorable piece of art. Rachel is both a painter and portrait photographer. Currently she is focusing on abstract impressionistic painting. She was raised in London, England and now lives and works in Los Angeles. Rachel has conducted Art Workshops for people of all ages. She describes her art work as: "My abstract paintings stem from emotions. Every brush stroke is a part of my soul, conveying the beauty of life that I experience into a meditation that can be visually felt from my audience. My greatest passion is to inspire others. Here are just three of her works!!!"

SISTERHOOD GIFT SHOP

Shavuot is our Holiday of receiving the Torah.

We hear the story of Ruth and her commitment to the Jewish people. Our kids enjoyed celebrating this holiday, drawing their own 10 commandments and coloring in their coloring books. Reading bedtime stories about Moses and the Ten Rules.

As I grow older, I understand more about Counting the Omer and how doing so can be a meditative reflective small amount of time I give to myself each day between Pesach and Shavuot.

YOUR Sisterhood Gift Shop has books to read both for children and adults, coloring pages to explore and an Omer counting set: with Meditative cards and a book regarding the count.

Don't forget that Mother's day is fast approaching!

New earrings, necklaces and bracelets are here as well as home decoration items from Israel. CBD Naked Bee lotion as well as that yummy Orange Blossom Honey original Naked Bee fragrance. Items priced for all budgets.

Please note that at this time our Gift shop computer Point of Sale system is down for maintenance/update. Credit cards can not be run through gift shop for the time being, but sales will be hand written and charged/entered manually through the temple office if you do not have cash or a check with you when shopping.

You can be proud that YOUR Congregation Emanu El Gift Shop is the only fully stocked gift shop in the Northern Riverside, Eastern Los Angeles and San Bernardino Counties.
