Cantorial Comments

Dear Friends:

The following is an extension of the two-minute statement I will be giving at my Rabbinic Ordination on June 11 at Temple Emanuel in Great Neck, NY [please read to the end!!]

This day has been a long time in coming.... Over the past several years, I have extensively researched, audited classes, and applied to several reform and conservative rabbinic programs from NY to L.A. I wasn't sure how I could achieve my goal of becoming a rabbi before I turned seventy [not for another 2 years!] since my energies and time have been all-consuming as I serve as the main spiritual leader of a congregation in Redlands, CA [where I was hired 16 years ago by then, Rabbi Doug Kohn, who is here today]! In addition to my family, my time is also devoted to my work as a Board Certified practicing chaplain in L.A.

The website of the Adath Mesifita Wolkowisk Academy in Flushing, NY, states that the Rabbinic Program "...is not for everyone who desires to come into the Rabbinate. It has been designed for the mature Jewish adult, probably already serving the Jewish community, who can readily document competence and expertise in traditional Judaic academic disciplines and significant work experience."

Since my Cantorial ordination 30 years ago at Hebrew Union College in New York, the landscape of the Reform movement in America has changed significantly. So much of the congregational and community work I have been doing over the past three decades is rabbinic. Beyond creative musical programming, organizing concerts, Purimsphiels, and leading worship that I love, my role has broadened to being mostly the sole officiant in services and all manner of life cycle events. I have fully prepared students and adults for bar and bat mitzvah, taught Introduction to Judaism and Adult Education, provided pastoral and healing support and participated in Interfaith programming and dialogue.

Two weeks after my cantorial ordination in May 1995, exactly 30 years ago today, my husband, Ira, and I were married at Lincoln Square Synagogue [also known also by its nickname 'wink n' stare']. I'm so happy that our daughter, Ellie, and old friends could be here today and that, along with my dear chevruta, colleague and friend, Cantor Linda Ecker, we can celebrate our rabbinic ordination together.

These are challenging times in our communities as Jewish leaders. I am grateful and humbled to have reached this milestone on my spiritual journey and pray for the courage to guide with integrity, wisdom, and strength as I continue to evolve and grow personally and professionally.

TO MY REDLANDS CONGREGATION: I am honored to serve Congregation Emanu El in this, my 16th, going on 17th year. As we continue the search for a full-time rabbi who will reside in Redlands, I am committed to helping in their transition so that they can lead our congregation and community into the future.

Rabbi Naomi Levy has written: "Finding your way in life is not so much about choosing a direction. It's about uncovering the voice of the soul, the call that is already imprinted in you, and then finding the courage to face down your fears and let your true voice be heard."

May our souls and voices unite in the tasks we face ahead together,

Cantor Jennifer Bern-Vogel

Presidential Perspectives

Thank you to all who came out to our various gatherings to experience Rabbi Jason Rosner. Rabbi Rosner is one of two Rabbinic candidates we are currently considering. I would like to thank Vice-President Scott Wilkie, who is leading our Rabbinic search along with members Kristin Booth, Steve Becker, Paul Shimoff and myself. Our search committee takes seriously the role of finding our next Rabbi. It's important to know there will be many factors considered in a final decision, and this process may take some time before selecting a final candidate.

It was good to see many of you at our Annual Congregational Meeting on May 15. This is always an important time to come together as a membership to learn the state of our congregation. As reported, we stand on solid ground, but must always remember the importance of staying involved and engaged as a congregation. Through a gift from the Stanley Roshwald estate, we will be able to once again hire a full-time rabbi, pay off the mortgage and reestablish our library and archives.

I'd like to congratulate again, Kathy Trainor, who was awarded this year's President's Award for her dedication to our temple and exemplary volunteerism.

We say so long and thank you to Board of Directors members Margie Orland and Kathy Rosenfeld, and say welcome to Seth Poulin and Kathy Trainor to our board. Welcome also to Ilene Mino who assumes the role of Sisterhood president from Debbie Schwartz.

Finally, I'd like to congratulate Cantor Bern-Vogel on her Rabbinic ordination this month in New York. On behalf of our entire congregation, we send heartfelt Mazel Tov to Cantor on this momentous occasion and accomplishment.

Please stay up to date with temple events either through the Bulletin, Constant Contact, or our various Facebook and Instagram channels.

See you soon!

Treasurer's Report

The Budget for our Congregation was approved by the Board of Directors and presented at the Annual Meeting. Remember that a budget is a guideline, it is our best estimate of what we anticipate to receive in income and what we expect our expenses to be. As always, we do our best to limit our expenses wherever possible, while trying to increase revenues. We did implement an across-the-board 5% dues increase.

Dues letters for the Fiscal Year 25-26 will be going out soon. I encourage members to contact me if there are any concerns about their dues.

As we enter the end of this fiscal year, I would like to thank the many volunteers who support our congregation. Most noticeable is our Sisterhood; providing programs, oneg shabbats, fundraising to support our Congregation and so much more. I want to thank them for their continued support and their generosity throughout the year.

I greatly appreciate my fellow Temple Board members who devote many volunteer hours keeping our synagogue functioning and serving our membership. I would like to thank many of our members who volunteer a huge number of hours to support the needs of congregation; Michele and Paul Zipperstein for covering Shabbat Services in the absence of Cantor, Kathy Trainor who covers our office every Tuesday in addition to her work with Sisterhood, Seth Poulin for his expertise and assistance with our security changes, and Brad Hyman who prepares and schedules all our Constant Contact emails and handles recording of all donations made to the various funds for the Temple and Sisterhood. We could always use more volunteers to help out; there is always work to be done! Please contact Judy or I if you are interested in helping out. We would be happy to hear from you!

Mental Health Awareness in Action

Politics and Mental Health

We live in a challenging time. Yes, all times have their challenges, but this time of political polarization, a chaotic new federal administration, dramatic changes to the way government functions when benefits and jobs are threatened, ended without warning, and where tariffs and threats of tariffs are destabilizing the global and local economies. It's all too much for many of us.

More of us are needing some guidance from therapists on how to cope emotionally. More of us are reporting that our sleep and emotional stability are disturbed by politics. Increased anxiety and depression, usually from things going on in our very personal lives, are popping up and increasing as the news of government actions and threats to democracy flare out from Washington and beyond.

Of course, there are those in our society who have been especially affected. Imagine being a person who had a steady, decent job he loved, and suddenly finds himself fired. There are 10's of thousands like him. Or imagine being transgender and consistently finding messages all over the media and from official statements and policies that essentially say you are unacceptable – get out of our military, stop going through accepted medical procedures to help you realize the person you truly are. Or you are a hungry person, a very ill person, overseas, and without warning the food you were getting, the medical treatment you were depending on, are ended, no warning.

We have ways to try to change the situation, but we are often flooded with hard to control emotions, anxiety, depression. Some tips from Syracuse University's professor of psychology, Afton Kapuscinski:

- Control the tendency to fixate on disturbing news that we can't change
- Relax our bodies – easing the tension lodged there helps ease our thoughts and opens us up to other things
- Focus on gratitude for what is good in our personal lives

And if we feel overwhelmed by it all, seek out some professional help.

And one more thought, from Nancy – start a beauty journal. Everyday jot down in a little notebook anything you saw, heard, smelled, touched, today that was beautiful, even a thought. It's like a gratitude journal, which is also a good idea. Beauty and gratitude remind us how much of life is precious, even heavenly.

Sisterhood Speaks

I am honored to be your next Sisterhood president. I do not have a sister, but I have been part of sisterhoods all of my life: Girl Scouts, B'nai B'rith Girls, and Kappa Delta Sorority. There are many quotes about sisterhood; one of my favorites is “Sisterhood is mostly about learning about people, making a difference, and is giving without expecting a return.”

Our new leadership team has a passion for community service and has been truly inspiring to me. I look forward to our group making a positive impact. Let's all embrace '25-'26 with an open heart and a hopeful spirit to bring new and more activity to Congregation Emanu El.

Our “In & Out” transition training will be June 8th and then we will have a calendar to present to the membership. Here is an addendum to last month's article: In addition to all the wonderful support we received at the Sisterhood Luncheon, Kathy would like to give a special thanks to Jeanne Silberstein for providing the table flowers from her garden.

Here's to new adventures and the wonderful contributions we will make together for our community,

Ilene Mino, Sisterhood President

From Our School for Jewish Living

This past year SJL and K'tanim had so much fun. We explored many types of literature, celebrated each holiday, discussed our values and culture, created art, while enjoying our music, some fine art, and of course and ate our wonderful food. Most importantly, we discussed our tefilah, as well as where, when, and how Jews pray. We celebrated that we are created in God's image, b'tzelem Elohim, and the many ways we can honor our Lord. Our focus for the year was that "One person can make a difference."

In closing, I'd like our students to consider what each lesson, story, and prayer asks us to think about. The Shema: there is one true God, and we call that God, Adonai. Modeh Ani: Modeh means thankful - like in hakarat hatov - We are thanking God for another great day. The Hamotzi: We thank God for the blessing of food from the earth.

It has been our pleasure to share Jewish life with our School for Jewish Learning students and families. Best Wishes for a fabulous summer.

L'hitra'ot
Miss Ilene & Miss Karyn

Thank you to our teachers Miss Ilene, Miss Karyn, and Miss Michele for a wonderful school year full of learning, music and fun!

Summer reading recommendation from The Jewish Book Council Chutzpah Girls: 100 Tales of Daring Jewish Women

Julie Silverstein
Tami Schlossberg Pruwer

In this grand collection, the authors profile one hundred Jewish women who have lived extraordinary lives and accomplished extraordinary things. Some are from ancient times, while others are from modern times; but they all have fascinating stories that exemplify accomplishment, perseverance, and hard work. These women's names and deeds will live on and inspire a new generation of girls to make the most of their own talents and abilities. The book embraces a wide spectrum of Jewish identities — Sephardi, Ashkenazi, Mizrahi, Persian, Ethiopian, Indian, and Bukharian Jewish women all appear within the pages.... Summary from Michal Hoschander Malen (Jewish Book Council)

SISTERHOOD GIFT SHOP

School is out for Summer,
Father's Day will be celebrated,
Summer Fun is on the way

Students are excited that school break has arrived and look forward to family plans for the summer.

Dad's look forward to cards, hugs and kisses from their families, along with some time away from home upkeep, at least for a day!

Yet there are Jewish Holidays even in Summer. Shavuot, the giving of the Torah at Sinai is the first among them. Lisa has fond memories of taking her children to see how the 10 commandments are written in a Torah scroll when she was able to while working.

You can be proud that YOUR Congregation Emanu El Gift Shop is a fully stocked gift shop in our area.

Your Sisterhood Gift Shop is open by appointment only all summer long. Call Lisa at 909-723-3238 to arrange a time for your visit to the gift shop.

SCRIP IS PERFECT FOR GIFTS, TOO!

RaiseRight: Simply the right way to fundraise.

Raise funds by buying gift cards from RaiseRight to pay for your everyday shopping and spending year-round. Groceries, dining out, home improvement, and everything in between. It's the most convenient and effective way to fundraise because earning becomes part of your everyday life. Plus, gift cards are great for helping you to set and keep a weekly budget. It's never been easier to create opportunities for what matters most to you. No extra money spent. No extra time wasted.

How it works:

- Buy gift cards at full value from 750+ brands. Pick from eGift cards and physical gift cards.
- Earn up to 20% on every gift card you buy.
