Rabbi Cantor's Comments

WELCOME TO OUR NEWEST FAMILIES!

Although it's been nearly 17 years since we moved to California, I am still struck by the diverse species of succulents and foliage I see walking around my urban neighborhood. Especially awe-inspiring are the expansive roots of many older trees, pushing aimlessly through the cracks in the sidewalks, which often can be quite treacherous.

The 15th of Shevat is the New Year for Trees, known as Tu b'Shevat. It is one of the four New Year celebrations in the Jewish calendar cycle, the others being Rosh Hashanah, Nisan/Passover, and Elul, the new year of tithing.

The observance of Tu B'shvat is an opportunity to start planting, welcome spring, and connect with greater awareness and intention to nature by tasting different types of fruits of the Land of Israel - olives, dates, grapes, figs and pomegranates, most of which are now growing in our own Biblical Garden!

We read in Deuteronomy 20:19, that a person is compared to "the tree of the field." With our faith and commitment to God, we cultivate strong roots and produce the fruits of Torah and Mitzvot. At this year's celebration, we also look forward to welcoming our new families; we encourage them to share their stories and invite them to plant new roots with Congregation Emanu El for generations to come!

While the sage Choni was walking along a road, he saw a man planting a carob tree. Choni asked him: "How long will it take for this tree to bear fruit?" "Seventy years," replied the man. Choni then asked: "Are you so healthy a man that you expect to live that length of time and eat its fruit?" The man answered: "I found a fruitful world because my ancestors planted it for me. Likewise, I am planting for my children."

Presidential Perspectives

Thank you to everyone from our interfaith community who attended our MLK Shabbat service honoring Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s 97th birthday. Thank you to the varied denominations of clergy, youth readers, members of the Congregation Emanu El Choir, and accompanist Abe Fabela for bringing meaning and depth to our synagogue for this very special night. And a special thank you to Rabbi Cantor Jen for organizing this event, which drew nearly a hundred members from our community.

I'm pleased to announce that discussions have begun with representatives from California State University, San Bernardino regarding the possibility of housing Congregation Emanu El's archives on the CSUSB campus. The university possesses the unique expertise to protect and manage the written and physical history of our congregation. This would provide broad public access while documenting and securing the important and historic place our congregation holds in the San Bernardino Valley. I'm excited by this unique opportunity to once again bring our archival history and library together in one location.

Lastly, please mark your calendars for March 21 when rabbinic student Eric Sbar will lead a unique Havdalah experience at CEE, complete with dinner, a campfire, and S'mores. This will be a wonderful chance for our congregation to gather casually to close our weekly Shabbat. Thank you to Eric and his wife Melissa (Missy) for bringing their energy and spirit to Congregation Emanu El.

As always, thank you to our cherished congregants for ensuring this historic house of worship continues to thrive for generations to come.

With gratitude,

Greg Weissman

Sisterhood Meeting

Sunday, February 1, 2026 at 12:30 p.m.

Sisterhood Speaks

We had such a lovely time celebrating Tu B'Shvat together, sharing a meaningful seder with the children from the School for Jewish Living and our congregation's families. The joy and connection of that morning carry beautifully into our next big gathering — the Mahjong Tournament on February 16th.

As Sisterhood's largest fundraiser, the tournament plays an essential role in supporting our temple community. The time, care, and teamwork poured into this event truly make a difference. A heartfelt thank-you goes out to the many volunteers who are working together to ensure the day runs smoothly and joyfully. And a very special note of gratitude to Julie Strain, Lisa Wise-Wolk and Kathy Trainor for coordinating this year's tournament. Organizing an event with so many moving parts is no small feat, and we are deeply appreciative of their dedication.

We look forward to seeing everyone there. Our calendar is wonderfully full as we move through February and into the spring.

Please mark your calendars for these opportunities to connect:

February

- Feb. 1: Tu B'Shevat Seder & New Family Brunch (Light brunch at 10:30 a.m.)
- Feb. 8: Mahjong Lessons (10:30 a.m.)
- Feb. 15: Tournament Set-up (9:00 a.m. - all hands on deck!)
- Feb. 16: The Mahjong Tournament
- Feb. 22: Mahjong Lessons

Looking Ahead

- Mar. 1: Purim Celebration & Spiel (11:30 a.m.-1:00 p.m.)
- Sisterhood Meeting (new date coming soon)
- Mar. 12: WRJ Pacific District Convention
- Apr. 2: Community Seder — please RSVP early
- Apr. 10: Pink & Teal Sisterhood-led Shabbat
- Apr. 12: Day of Action and "No Tea" Tea (see ad)

As we move through the winter months, may your days be filled with warmth, and may we continue to find peace, joy, and connection within our community and our homes.

Mental Health Awareness in Action

Tu B'Shevat Thoughts

As Tu B'Shevat time, the New Year of the Trees is here, we ponder the wisdom of our ancestors. They must have known that trees are important to us, and maybe not just for fruit and wood. There's more, and modern researchers have been exploring that. They've found that trees and other green, growing things help our mental health and general well-being.

For instance, more than one researcher has measured chemicals that trees exude and found how they improve our emotions. The Japanese years ago began Forest Bathing that takes people into the forest for health and healing.

Others have found that people who garden tend to be happier than those who don't. Working with growing things and with soil gives us something we need. Even those with serious mental illness, and those with basic issues like high blood pressure or too much weight, find their problems eased by gardening. Other researchers have studied vacant lots in cities. Where they have planted bushes and trees, they find that passers-by feel happier than those passing by barren lots. And where ugly vacant lots are made into green living places, area violence decreases.

And in some countries doctors give "green prescriptions." Though we are not doctors, we have some green prescriptions to try:

- Every few days take a walk in the woods or through a grassy field
- Walk around your area and admire the neighborhood gardens
- Spend 15 or 20 minutes sitting quietly under a tree or lying on the grass
- Try a bit of gardening
- Do some art, like painting and drawing, plein air (outside)
- If you play a small enough instrument, take it outside and play it among trees and bushes
- If you dance, go outside and dance around a favorite tree of yours
- If you sing, go outside in the morning and sing with the birds

There is something about being close to and interacting with the full range of life on our planet that we relish, that we need for a healthy life. As Rabbi Gershon Winkler says, paying close attention to all the living green, the living soil, is a kind of "Soul Presence," and he it calls "transformative and healing."

Remember Eden was a garden with trees, and the creation of modern Israel was accompanied by planting many thousands of trees.

And one more prescription:

- Go outside and celebrate Tu B'Shevat

From Our School for Jewish Living

SJL Growing Our Future: A Spring of Action!

It's shaping up to be a busy and beautiful season at our school as we move from the roots of Tu B'Shevat toward the active service of our April Day of Action. This year, we will also bring a deeper focus to our Purim celebrations. While the masks and treats are always a highlight, we want our children to experience the true spirit of the holiday: Matanot L'evyonim. By prioritizing giving to those in need, we will help our students understand that Jewish values are meant to be lived out loud. As of this date Emerson's book drive is well over 1,000 books.

February: Celebrating Tu B'Shevat

In February, we will celebrate Tu B'Shevat, the New Year for the Trees! Even if there is still a chill in the air here, the almond trees in Israel will already be beginning to bloom. In class, students will explore why trees are so sacred in Jewish tradition. They will learn about the mitzvah of not wasting resources (Bal Tashchit) and may even sample some of the Seven Species of Israel, such as figs, dates, and pomegranates. It will be a time to appreciate the natural world that sustains us.

Purim, A Day of Joy & Courage

On March 1st, it will be time to get loud! Purim commemorates the bravery of Queen Esther and the joy of the Jewish people. The Celebration: Students and families will be invited to dress up for our annual Purim Spiel. We will shake our groggers, share Mishloach Manot, and celebrate the "hidden" miracles in our lives.

April: Our Day of Action

April 12: Building on what we will learn about caring for the earth, our students will put their values into practice during our Day of Action. This won't just be a day of learning — it will be a day of doing. Students will participate in hands-on service projects to support our local community. Whether they are packing supplies for those in need or writing notes of gratitude, they will be practicing Gemilut Hasadim (acts of loving-kindness). "It is not your duty to finish the work, but neither are you at liberty to neglect it." — Pirkei Avot 2:16

We can't wait to see our students grow their roots in March and branch out to help others in April!

Special thank you to Margie Henkin for visiting our class and reading stories with the students!

Miss Ilene, Miss Karyn, & Miss Shaina

Stories with Miss Margie

Thank you God for creating the fruit tree.

Please join us for a
Tu B'Shevat Seder
Sunday, February 1st, at 10:30 a.m.
with the children and families of SJL.

Just as at a Passover seder, symbolic foods are eaten in a special order in celebration of the important role trees play in our life. It's traditional to eat Israeli fruits, such as figs, dates, and carobs.

Engage and learn about Tu B'Shevat with a sampling of different types of fruits and nuts, juice, and challah.

We will review the blessing we say before eating fruit with the children, borei p'ri ha'eitz, while enjoying the morning together.

“JUDAISM and CHRISTIANITY: IMPORTANT SIMILARITIES and CRITICAL DIFFERENCES”

Rabbi Michael Lotker is a second career rabbi having been ordained at age 55 from the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion in 2003. He is a physicist who spent his first career in Alternative Energy focusing on wind, solar and geothermal energy and is widely published in the alternative energy field. Rabbi Lotker started a number of alternative energy firms including a wind power development company that installed and operated wind farms in Hawaii and California. He is presently Rabbi Emeritus at Temple Ner Ami in Camarillo, California and the Community Rabbi for the Jewish Federation of Ventura County. He is the author of "A Christian's Guide to Judaism" which has become a classic work in the field of interfaith dialogue. He is a participant in numerous Jewish-Christian dialogues and is a member of the Priest-Rabbi Dialogue, a project of the Board of Rabbis of Southern California and the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Los Angeles.

The Rabbi Norman F. Feldheym Memorial Lecture was established in 1985 at the time of his death by members of Congregation Emanu El as well as many friends in the wider community. Rabbi Feldheym served as rabbi of Congregation Emanu El in San Bernardino from 1937 to 1971 and as Rabbi Emeritus from 1971 until his death.

"Striving to be Human: Our Most Compelling Commandment"
Shabbat Morning
March 14, 2026
10:00 a.m.

We are excited to announce a Shabbat morning with Rabbi Douglas Kohn, which will be followed by a discussion, Q & A and Kiddush Luncheon!

Rabbi Douglas Kohn serves Temple Beth Jacob in Newburgh, New York, having previously served congregations in Buffalo, Baltimore, Chicago, and Southern California, and is happily busy in all aspects of congregational and community endeavors. In addition to coediting Striving to Be Human (CCAR Press, 2025) with Rabbi Leah Cohen Tenenbaum, he is the editor of two other volumes, Life, Faith, and Cancer: Jewish Journeys Through Diagnosis, Treatment, and Recovery (URJ Press, 2008) and Broken Fragments: Jewish Experiences of Alzheimer's Disease Through Diagnosis, Adaptation, and Moving On (URJ Press, 2012), and has written and spoken widely on the themes of illness, medical ethics, and being human. Rabbi Kohn has served on numerous CCAR, URJ, and communal commissions, committees, and boards, while still savoring time to read, write, and paint, as well as exercise, cook, and travel with his wife, Cindy, and their children and grandchildren.

Appreciation to Everyone Who Made Our MLK Shabbat Service Memorable

Our MLK Shabbat Service was outstanding! We hosted four different clergy within our area, and the interfaith service was led by Rabbi Cantor Bern-Vogel. We had an unexpected turnout of over 80+ guests. Our choir was wonderful, the inclusion of our young people was charming and everyone enjoyed themselves. We extend a special "thank you" to Lorraine Freeman and her crew that included a grocery store run by Cheryl Bardowell to add to our Oneg table; we expected only 50 - 60 people. There was enough for everyone with leftovers! This was a special spiritual Shabbat enjoyed by all. Thank you to all who made this possible.

Happy Birthday!!! יום הולדת שמח

We rejoice with those whose birthdays occur in February and wish them a Mazal Tov:

6-February	Rita Cohn	24-February	Rabbi Cantor Jennifer Bern-Vogel
6-February	Lia Robinson	25-February	Gary Fenster
